The War Today

By GUY RHODES

STYMIED?

Disclosure in London that the Royal Air Force had conducted more than 1,000 mass bombing raids on German-held territory in three months gave a first-rate illustration today of why Hitler's blitzkrieg has not started. Apparently it can't.

A spokesman for the R.A.F. said the force had pounded German bases of operation, particularly airports and shore bases in Holland, Belgium and those the Germans had sought to establish in Norway, so that attempts to organize mass attacks on Britain had become "extremely difficult."

BOGGED DOWN

This officer added that the R.A.F., although outnumbered by the Germans, had "to a great extent succeeded in breaking down" the Nazi scheme for a trans-Channel onslaught and had rendered air bases "acquired nearer our shores practically untenable."

The diplomatic correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph said he had been informed by a reliable neutral source that the scheme had bogged down partly because of a disagreement in the German high command. His informant told him Marshal Goering, Joseph Goebbels and some other of the more responsible Nazi administrators were opposed to an invasion attempt as practically foredoomed. The lesser, and less responsible, German rulers were reported anxious to proceed.

QUANDARY

The superiority of the Royal Air Force has placed Hitler in a considerable quandary, apparently, and has doubtless brought color to the ears of Marshal Goering who was to have provided his chief with the most powerful air force in the world.

It appeared significant also that in the last two days large formations of German bombers and fighters—the largest since the war started—have been unable to break through the coastal defences and have been chased home with considerable loss. It would seem as though their very size—necessary if they are to do the job Hitler set them—make them more vulnerable to the defenders' counter-blows.

OIL

There was a hint in London that Britain has prepared a new blow against the axis partners by cutting off oil supplies it knows have been reaching them through Spain. Simultaneously it became known in Washington that the United States will not permit further exports of oil to Spain to be carried in American ships.

Britain was prepared, it was said, to allow Spain as much oil as she used before the Spanish civil war, but no more.

It may be that Germany and the Berlin-leaning government of Rumania foresaw this move and that is why the Bucharest government ordered the largest British oil well in the country seized yesterday and expropriated.

The report will be presented this evening to the Commons.

suppose it will not—then Germany and Italy will be totally dependent on Rumania for oil, unless Russia can spare some.

Another factor returned to the picture today, the factor of approaching starvation. A Basel dispatch said Germans were having difficulty in getting French farmers back onto the land because they could not feed them. Food conditions were reported extremely bad in areas the Germans did not occupy, but almost as bad as those they have entered.

Frenchmen were reported crowding to the Swiss border, buying it if they had any money. They found the franc had deteriorated in value so far since the German invasion that it was practically worthless.

The Nazis say the Netherlands will be released when Germans now interned in the East Indies also are freed.

2,823 Lost, 2,477 Saved, Evacuation Liner Sunk

LONDON (CP)—Authorized sources said today that 2,823 persons have been missing since the sinking of the Cunard-White Star liner Lancastria at anchor off St. Nazaire during the evacuation of British troops from France.

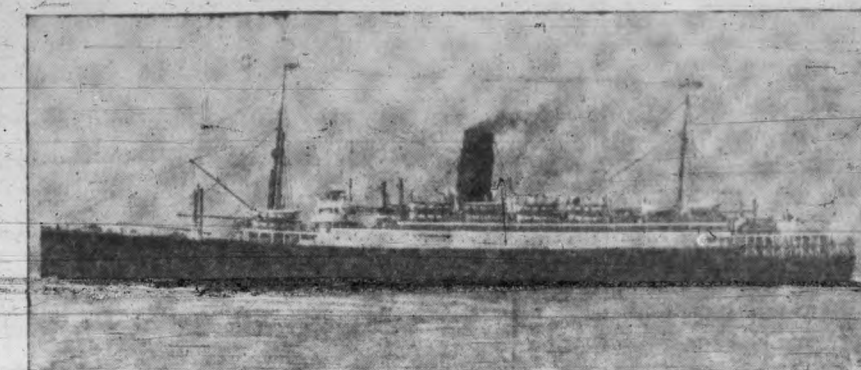

German planes are said to have scored three direct hits on her with aerial torpedoes.

There were 2,477 known survivors of the 5,300 aboard. Others, however, may have saved themselves by swimming or wading ashore and falling into German hands.

British censors had succeeded in suppressing the news for nearly five weeks. It finally leaked out through refugees arriving in New York.

The 16,243-ton Lancastria, struck by bombs from Nazi planes, took a heavy list which hampered the launching of lifeboats. She capsized and sank within half an hour of the attack. The exact date was not given, but the evacuation was in mid-June.

children refugees were among the 5,300 passengers. How many of these were lost is not known, nor is it known what percentage of the total they made up. Most of the survivors were picked up by small craft which were carrying other troops from the docks to troopships in the harbor. One of the survivors said "perfect discipline" was maintained. The liner formerly was in the cruise service between New York and the West Indies. One report said survivors were

Repatriation Ship Torpedoed, 450 of 1,300 French Drown

LONDON (CP)—A German motor torpedo boat sank the French steamship Meknes, which was carrying 1,300 French officers and soldiers being repatriated to France, A. V. Alexander told the House of Commons today.

The First Lord of the Admiralty said the brightly-identified ship was sent down last night off the south coast of Britain. The German warship disregarded outward evidence of a neutral ship on an errand of mercy.

British warships, which with air-craft rushed to the scene, picked up 1,000 survivors after

"this deliberate and callous attack," Mr. Alexander declared.

He said the German craft fired without warning. Before the ship sailed from Southampton for Marseille yesterday, the French government was warned and every attempt was made to treat the ship as one repatriating neutrals to a neutral country.

The Press Association said it was understood the Meknes had been guaranteed safe passage by the Germans.

One group of 950 survivors, 15 of them seriously injured, was landed at a south coast port this afternoon.

"The vessel (6,127 tons gross, 413 feet long) was flying the French flag and had the French colors painted on deck and sides, and was fully illuminated," the First Lord said.

"Passengers and crew were given five minutes to take to the boats, but each time she tried to signal her name she was again fired on and sank in four or five minutes."

"I have just heard the German high command admit responsibility for this sinking," said Mr. Alexander. "Their communique today states that in an attack off the south coast of England one of their speedboats off Portland sank a large enemy merchant ship of 18,000 tons by torpedo."

Asked if "every step would be taken by the war cabinet to see that the French people are fully informed of this outrage," Mr. Alexander replied emphatically: "Certainly."

Some survivors landed at a southwest port expressed belief the number lost would exceed 450. Many of them were injured and a number were barefooted and in their underclothing.

They were given food and transported to another part of the country by motor bus and special trains.

80 Nazi Planes Routed, Convoy Saved

LONDON (CP)—About 80 German planes swarmed down on a merchant convoy off the south-east coast today, but their bombs missed and the attackers were driven off by fierce anti-aircraft fire and fighter planes which chased them back across the English Channel.

Eyewitnesses said the air was "alive with aircraft" during the battle.

The raiders headed back for France after planting a half-mile long string of bombs near the vessels, which escaped damage.

The Air Ministry announced ground defences and Royal Air Force fighters shot down four German planes participating in the southeast coast raid, one falling in southwestern England. A fifth craft was downed by defenders off northeast Scotland.

At the same time it was announced that Britain's home defences had destroyed 262 enemy planes, 188 of them over and around the coasts, since June 18, or an average of about five a day.

Excellent Targets On Sunny Day

Glittering in the sunlight, the Nazi planes today made brilliant targets for anti-aircraft guns.

The thunder of the big guns, the rattle of machine guns and the thud of bombs set up a terrific din as the raiders, their whirling motors wide open, twisted, turned, dived and climbed to dodge the bursting shells.

A Nazi bomber crashed in a field in southwest England after taking part in the unsuccessful attack on the convoy. Eyewitnesses said British fighters chased the big craft inshore, smoke pouring from its still droning engines while the pilot strove desperately but in vain for a safe landing.

"It seemed to me and my mate that it was coming straight for us and we threw ourselves into a hedge," said one spectator. "The plane hit a low brick wall and ploughed across the field where we had been standing. It burst quickly into flames and I saw one German throw his comrade out. The man had a broken leg."

"The pilot burned to death. A third member of the crew, who was uninjured, was seized by soldiers. This fellow had a package of English cigarettes in his pocket."

Lone Nazi Plane Preceded Squadrons

Ten minutes before the appearance of the bombers, a solitary plane, flying so high that it was invisible, left a thin trail of white smoke.

When it turned tail for France, eight junkers 87's swept from the clouds, cutting loose with bombs which kicked up huge geysers of water. A heavy smoke pall hung over the water sprays, forming a multi-colored display in the bright sun.

R.A.F. fighters roared to the challenge and a series of dog-fights broke out.

A strong force of British craft pursued the German bombers to the French coast, while other British planes engaged in a free-for-all with the strong force of German escort ships.

Earth Shaken By Guns' Blasts

Watchers along the southeast coast said the bombers kept coming relentlessly despite the anti-aircraft fire, which rocked the earth for miles around.

The bombers split into three groups, each keeping in formation as best it could.

The first group attacked the British ships hovering near the shore. The second and third blasted away at land objectives from which rose spirals of thick, brown smoke.

Later another formation of 15 German planes, apparently fighters, flew in from the Channel. They were strung out in a long line, one after the other.

Ground defences set up a curtain of fire and R.A.F. fighters took to the air and chased them back across the channel.

Hitler's Staff Split On Invasion Plan

LONDON (CP)—A difference of opinion among Hitler's lieutenants is delaying the long threatened attempt to invade Britain, according to The London Daily Telegraph.

In a front page story, he says Hitler has been confronted with a serious conflict of views, adding that "Goering, Goebbels, and Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, chief of staff, are insisting the threatened attack on Britain must not be launched, while Von Ribbentrop (foreign minister), Himmler (chief of the Gestapo) and other extremists who have little or no serious responsibility for the prosecution of the war are pressing for an invasion."

He gained his information "from most reliable neutral sources, which claimed that Goering and Goebbels consider the risk of an invasion too great."

B.C. LEADS CANADA

British Columbia leads all provinces in per capita sales of war savings certificates, Christopher Spencer, provincial chairman of the War Savings committee, was advised today from eastern headquarters at Toronto.

"British Columbia heads all provinces in per capita subscriptions to war savings certificates," read the wire from W. H. Somerville, general chairman in Toronto. "Please accept my heartfelt congratulations on this splendid achievement."

Britain Keeps Aliens

LONDON (CP)—Sir John Anderson, Home Secretary, told the House of Commons today that it was not proposed to send civilian alien internees overseas "unless they have volunteered to them to be accompanied or followed by their wives and children." He told a questioner the same condition applied to aliens already sent.

3 English Girls Here to Miss War

Thrilled to be at the end of their long journey, delighted with Canada and the Canadian people and looking forward to their stay on Vancouver Island, three attractive English girls stepped from St. Princess Margaret this afternoon with Mrs. Dora Bamford, with whom they will stay on Beaver Lake Road. Mrs. Bamford met them in Vancouver.

The girls were Margaret Shaw, 14, of Liverpool; Lucy McLeerie, 12, Manchester, and Mary Gunn, 11, London.

They saw a few air raids before leaving England, but were not frightened, they said. One day crossing the Atlantic the weather was a bit rough, but nothing exciting happened.

From Montreal they crossed the continent over Canadian National Lines.

Knudsen Speeds Air-Building Plan

U.S. Clears Way for Hosts Of Warplanes to Great Britain

WASHINGTON (AP)—Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau said today the United States had pledged "every facility" to enable Britain to buy 3,000 military airplanes a month here.

Confirming an announcement made in London by Lord Beaverbrook, the treasury head said the new arrangement was in addition to all previous orders—a huge total—and would require construction of new factories.

Britain has promised to pay for the erection of the new factories as well as to buy their output, Morgenthau added.

All U.S. Officials Approve Plan

The Secretary asserted the treasury, war and navy departments were in complete accord on the commitment; and that William S. Knudsen, production member of the defence commission, had agreed to undertake to work out the details.

He said the new factories involved in the program would give the United States capacity to build "far in excess" of the 50,000 planes a year set by President Roosevelt as a goal in his May 16 defence message. He declined to estimate the exact capacity planned.

Saying the British government "seems to have plenty of money," Morgenthau said the "sums involved are colossal."

"For our own national defence and for the benefit of American industry," he continued, "I believe this is the most important thing with which I have come in contact."

Specifically, Morgenthau explained, Britain proposed immediate action to get delivery of 3,000 airplanes during each month of 1941-42.

Workers Pledge Greatest Efforts

NEW YORK (CP)—Partial text of the speech made last night by Lord Beaverbrook, British Minister for Aircraft Production, as transcribed by the National Broadcasting Company, follows:

I have just received a telephone message from Mr. Morris Wilson, who is the agent of the aircraft ministry in the United States and Canada. He is authorized to say to me, by Mr. Morgenthau, Secretary of the Treasury, that the United States government will approve a plan to put into immediate production airplanes for our account up to a total output of 3,000 per month. These planes will be developed without delay. This is in addition to our present American program. There is news for you, and now for other things.

There is a company in the north making airplanes. They make very good airplanes—reconnaissance aircraft and bombers, too. The name of the firm is A. V. Rowe and Company, and the manager is Mr. Dobson. He sends me a telegram. He sends it on behalf of all the employees of A. V. Rowe and Company, the men and women who make reconnaissance aircraft and bombers, and they say to me that they will give to the nation the latest type of fighter. . . . That telegram is the spirit of the men and women engaged in the aircraft industry, the spirit of our Prime Minister.

LEADER'S CALL

For when the call to duty was sounded by Churchill, it rang like a summons to action. The factories and the foundries of those who make aircraft, through the shops where the engines are built, and through the works where the equipment is manufactured and the materials are fabricated. They needed that touch of leadership. When it was given, they responded immediately. Churchill is a leader for a great race. . . .

Messerschmitts Lack Armor

The opportunity has been given me to make an examination of the famous Messerschmitt 110 brought down in battle almost undamaged, and, make no mistake, the Messerschmitt 110 is a fine machine.

It has two engines of excellent workmanship. The engine is not an improvement in type on the Messerschmitt 109, but of course there are two of them instead of one. And here comes a very curious story. The petrol tank of this Messerschmitt 110 is armored, so is the oil tank, by means of a composite material made of rubber and leather; but although the petrol tank is armored the rubber and leather is not bullet proof and there is no armor whatever to protect the pilot.

But this is a brand new machine, better finished all through than the old 109. In fact, so far as finish goes it is in a class with the Hurricane and the Spitfire, but not so handy as the Hurricane, no so swift as the Spitfire.

And why wanting in armor? That is a mystery I leave you to solve for yourselves. Perhaps the enemy has got a bottleneck in armor plating. And if so, the bottleneck is not a German monopoly. Unhappily there are some bottlenecks in my own experience. I used to associate bottlenecks with pleasure, but now the word means gloom and misery to me.

The public know about our bottlenecks. They realize our difficulties, and they help us out.

Argentina Joins Move For Unified Hemisphere

HAVANA (AP)—Argentina, the big question mark of the Pan-American conference on hemisphere defence, indicated today a desire to retain the spirit of Inter-American solidarity.

Leopoldo Melo, head of the Argentine delegation, said his country was ready to present four projects on foreign possessions; inter-American neutrality and security zone, protection of children and co-ordination of defence measures.

The proposals, he said, are couched in language showing Argentine wishes to maintain the present status of a unified hemisphere.

NORTH SAANICH HUNTING LIMITED

Hunting in the North Saanich area will be further restricted under the 1940-41 game regulations issued by the provincial government today.

Purpose of the change is to prevent hunting in the more settled sections of the district. Exempted from the open seasons is the area lying to the east of the East Saanich Road and north of Oakland Avenue in the vicinity of Sidney, to Swartz Bay, for the hunting of pheasants and quail.

Open seasons for hunting are not materially changed from last year.

The game board has decided to allow a short open season on mountain sheep, rams only, in the Squilax area between Kamloops and Salmon Arm.

A short open season on cock

The people sympathize with us. They show it by the gifts they send us. We have a flow of contributions coming in, all of them sent to us for the purpose of buying aircraft.

Some of the gifts are large and some of them come from people of limited means. We value the cheque for $25,000, but we value, too, the gift from the telephone operators at Winchester who sent in 35 shillings to buy screws for a Spitfire. . . .

And thanks . . . to those American friends who give generously, for America is very necessary to us.

12,115 Motors Bought in U.S.

Since this ministry was formed (on May 14) we have purchased in America 12,115 engines for airplanes. Most of the aircraft frames will be built in Britain, and the American engines will be fitted here.

The types of engines we have bought are powerful, modern, tried and tested. . . .

But our real source of supply depends as always on our home production. The week just out was a record production, and the month of July output of aircraft and engines is more than double the output of last July. . . .

As to the young adventurers, the lads of the Royal Air Force, they are the heroes of history. They have known how to make use of the weapons we have put into their hands.

They will bring us the victory which will be followed by the years of splendor and triumph, and we will join with them in the day of rejoicing, for the British and the American engines will be maintained as it was purchased by the valiant courage of our youth.

R.A.F. Raids Prevent Bigger German Attack

British Bombers Bring the War to Germany
All the war's bombs have not fallen on Britain, as photo above shows. Workmen clear away shattered wreckage left when R.A.F. bombers paid Duisburg, Germany, a visit, giving civilians a taste of it in return for Nazi bombings in England.

LONDON (CP)—The British Air Force, in repeated attacks against German and German-occupied countries, has made it "extremely difficult" for the Reich to organize mass attacks on Britain from existing airbases and bases she "hoped to establish" just across the English Channel and the North Sea and in Norway, an informed British source said today.

More than 1,000 British attacks in the last three months have "to a great extent succeeded in breaking down the scheme Germany hoped would culminate in devastating attacks on these islands following her sweeping victories" on the continent, it was stated.

In the six-week period between June 1 and July 1 alone, the R.A.F. made 377 bombing raids on targets within the Reich itself.

DAILY RAIDS

This source said important military and industrial objectives had been struck daily and nightly, "not in isolated raids by single aircraft but in large-scale operations."

The raids, he said, were planned to cause "the greatest possible destruction to the enemy's vital war supplies" and make new air bases "acquired nearer our shores practically untenable."

They "have made the enemy realize that if our air force were numerically inferior to his own, it is vastly superior in both machines and personnel," he declared.

Between May 10 and June 17, the official reported, there were 416 big raids on German territory, and in exactly a month since the capitulation of France 517 "thrusts" were made against Germany's main military and industrial centres.

In addition to targets on land, the German navy has been attacked 66 times since the start of the war and 64 raids were made on Norway while British troops were there.

The informant reported an analysis showed raids on 161 industrial points, 229 on airdromes, 256 on military objectives and 275 on enemy communications, and said there was "ample proof" that the R.A.F.'s "violent, non-stop onslaughts . . . are making the enemy reel under hammer blows."

Thundershowers promised temporary relief today for most of the Middle West and much of the east.

At least 317 deaths were attributed directly or indirectly to the torrid spell. There were 116 heat fatalities and 201 drownings. In addition more than a half dozen persons were killed by lightning.

Norris Opposes Conscription in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator George Norris, Independent, Nebraska, raised his voice today against compulsory military training, saying it would gradually transform the United States into an "international bully" bent on the destruction of other nations.

The only present member of the Senate who voted against United States entry into the first Great War, Norris pointed to the Third Reich of Adolf Hitler as an object lesson of what, in his opinion, would happen to American ideals under peace-time conscription.

"If we 'go to war' with us, we are going to spend a goodly portion of every year in a military training camp," he said, "it will have an effect on their natures. If such a program were carried on for 50 years, the rising generation would know no other ideal except that of military force."

Despite the addition of Norris to a slowly-forming opposition bloc, Senator Sherman Minton of Indiana, Democratic whip, predicted Congress would enact a compulsory service program.

Excess Profits Tax Time Limit Refused

OTTAWA (CP)—Third reading was given in the House of Commons yesterday to the bill to amend the excess profits tax, last of the five measures necessary to carry out budget tax and tariff changes.

This measure had been held over the previous day because Conservative Leader Hanson asked Finance Minister Isley to consider his suggestion that a definite date of expiration be placed in the bill.

Mr. Isley announced no date of expiration would be placed in the measure. The government felt it could not put in a statute a prophesy as to the length of the war, but he was confident the tax would not remain in operation longer than was necessary to serve the purpose for which it was imposed.

Newest Bed Air-conditioned

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
 Associated Press Science Editor

SEATTLE — Invention of an air-conditioned bed has been announced at the University of Washington.

The bed warms a person in winter and cools him in summer. He dials his own weather for the night with a knob at the head of the bed.

An air-cushion under him and a new form of air-blanket over him makes this possible. The air cushion affords, furthermore, another easily installed possibility.

If father won't get up when called, mother downstairs may press a button, and pop goes father's air cushion.

The inventor, Dr. F. K. Kirsten, mechanical engineer, estimates the new bed can be manufactured for less cost than present high-class beds.

The bed is a sheet metal box, minus a top. Over this open space is stretched a fabric sufficiently air-tight to form a good cushion when the box is filled with compressed air.

But the fabric is also porous enough to permit slow seepage of this compressed air, whether warmed or cooled, up and around the sleeper.

ASBESTOS AND TUBE
 Asbestos lines the steel interior, and an electric heating tube in the box warms the air. If cooling is wanted, it is only necessary to turn down the heater, for the air always comes into the box cooled automatically by expansion.

The compressed air comes from a basement tank, at 150 pounds per square inch. The expansion automatically reduces the temperature to 52 fahrenheit.

A single special cover goes over the sleeper. It is a hollow blanket. Air from the bed below passes through fine tubes into the foot of this blanket and rolls forward inside the fabric to exit around the sleeper's shoulders. But by the time the air reaches there, Dr. Kirsten says, it has lost its speed and temperature so that there is no draft blowing on the sleeper's neck.

The bed was designed specially for use in hotels and large establishments.

More accidents occur on the highways on Saturdays than on any other day in the week, but more persons are killed on Sundays than on any other day.

Britain Stops Oil to Germany Through Spain

LONDON (CP)—Britain has taken steps to halt oil shipments to Germany through Fascist Spain, thereby plugging a troublesome new gap in her blockade of the Reich, it was reported today.

An "important statement" in which Minister of Economic Warfare Hugh Dalton was expected to describe for the House of Commons this afternoon just what measures had been adopted, was postponed indefinitely without explanation.

Britain's blockade sprang leaks with the fall of France, and one of the most important threats to Britain was the flow of oil, the blood of modern mechanized war, through Gen. Francisco Franco's phalangist Spain.

There now are direct land routes from Germany across France to Spain, giving Germany indirect use of innumerable Spanish ports which before the fall of France were useless to her.

Whole Position
 The well-informed Financial Times said today in discussing the problem:

"The British government has been reviewing its blockade policy following the collapse of France. Spain is regarded as one of the weaknesses in the position, and the government has taken note of the extent to which that country has been building up oil stocks while supplying a good deal to Germany...."

"The British government will want definite assurances from Spain that oil supplies do not go to Germany.... The government does not object to Spain obtaining essential supplies up to the limit of her pre-civil war requirements."

Linked with the blockade was an agreement concluded Tuesday and announced today in Lisbon among the Portuguese, Spanish and British governments designed to meet Spain's wheat needs and to facilitate further her purchases of Portuguese colonial products.

The British government, the communiqué said, agreed payments for these products should be made through the British-Spanish clearing system up to $600,000 (about $2,400,000).

Canada Speeds
Mechanized Units
 OTTAWA (CP)—Automotive orders placed by the Munitions and Supply Department now total $67,000,000, consisting of about 36,000 units, and orders will be placed shortly for 7,000 further units, Supply Minister C. D. Howe announced.

He stated expanding facilities to produce mechanized equipment should boost productive capacities of Canadian plants to 5,000 automotive units a month by the end of the year.

Pentiction Parson On Defence Charge
 PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—Rev. W. E. G. Dovey, charged under the Defence of Canada regulations with making subversive remarks, was committed for trial yesterday by Magistrate George A. McLellan of Pentiction.

Mr. Dovey was pastor of the Peachland-Westbank United Church from July, 1939, until March this year, when he was relieved of his post.

Vernon Flier Prisoner
 LONDON (CP)—Lorne Edward Chambers of Vernon, was among eight members of the Royal Air Force said in a German broadcast last night to have been taken prisoner between July 19 and 22.

Flying-officer Chambers was reported missing last June 16.

The address of his next of kin is given as his father, living at 19 Seventh Street, Vernon.

Montreal Threat To Quit Quebec

MONTREAL (CP)—Mayor Camille Houde told city council that Montreal "will not be in the province of Quebec very long" if the provincial government "continues to treat us as they have been doing."

The mayor did not clarify his statement, made during debate on unemployment in the city. He claimed the Quebec municipal commission had cut the city's budget allowance for relief in half, and that relief allowances for rent had been stopped.

Montreal came under the control of the commission when it failed to meet obligations last May.

BURY ANOTHER
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Treasury started packing about $5,000,000,000 worth of gold at New York today for "mailing" to Fort Knox, Ky.

An army of guards is being mobilized to accompany the metal. Technically, Postmaster General James Farley will be in charge, because the gold will go as "registered mail." The Treasury will pay the Post Office about $1,000,000,000 in postage.

Gold has been coming from Europe to New York so fast—as much as $400,000,000 in one week—that vaults in that city are crowded.

Special trains will carry the metal in about $100,000,000 lots, but the schedule will not be disclosed in advance. Each train will be bristled with guards and guns.

The vaults at Fort Knox are largely underground, built mostly of reinforced concrete and steel, and are surrounded by a stout building. The main vault door weighs 20 tons, and the vault casing—not the exterior of the building—is 25 inches thick.

Phantom Arsenal Hunted in France
 GENEVA (AP)—Worried by the disappearance of large quantities of arms during the chaotic days of the armistice, Pétain government at Vichy was reported today to have ordered a drive to liquidate a "phantom arsenal" now in the hands of civilians and demobilized soldiers.

Travelers from France reported the Vichy government had ordered all citizens and demobilized soldiers to deliver any arms in their possession to the police or army before July 30. After that date, any civilian found with arms will be subject to the death penalty.

Condemns Rumors
 VANCOUVER (CP)—F. W. Tuffrey, acting Provincial Red Cross Commissioner, condemned the spreading of fantastic rumors concerning the society and its work in British Columbia, saying: "Silly stories are kept in circulation by a few mental cripples who cannot keep their mouths shut when they hear ridiculous rumors. Apart from these people it appears some persons are starting the stories. We hope they will be caught up with and quietly put in the right place."

Rationing Equality Urged in Britain

LONDON (CP)—The Labor Party has warned that "considerable resentment will show itself—already is showing itself—if poorer households only are called on to make real sacrifices" in wartime food rationing.

Well-to-do families able to afford more expensive food "can eat as much as they can pay for," the party's executive committee declared, urging the government to curtail "luxurious and unnecessary expenditure on food."

The committee asserted the present system imposed "real restrictions" on the working class housewife and left the better-off classes "largely untouched."

R.C.A.F. Cook
Sentenced
 BARRIE, Ont. (CP)—Robert Griffith, 52-year-old veteran of the first Great War and cook in the officers' mess of the Royal Canadian Air Force station at Camp Borden, was convicted under Defence of Canada regulations here yesterday and sentenced to six months definite and six months indeterminate in jail. His offence consisted of statements made in the sleeping quarters at the camp.

U.S. Recalls Ministers
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department has disclosed that United States ministers have been recalled from Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, the three Baltic republics whose absorption by Soviet Russia was denounced by Sumner Welles, acting secretary.

Alderman Interned
But Not Ousted
 WINNIPEG (CP)—Internment under Defence of Canada Regulations will not disqualify Alderman Jacob Penner from being a member of the Winnipeg City Council, according to City Solicitor Jules Preudhomme.

The fact that he has missed the last three sessions of the council, which disqualified members under the city charter, would not disqualify Penner, Mr. Preudhomme said, as being arrested and forcibly detained by the government does not constitute absention of himself from the council.

He added, however, that action to unseat Alderman Penner could be taken by voters of his ward in the courts, and a by-election could be ordered.

Penner was elected to the council on a Communist ticket.

Big Arms Plan
 BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The Argentine chamber of deputies approved today a vast rearmament expenditures measure sponsored by the administration.

Although the chamber's deliberations were conducted in utmost secrecy, the newspaper El Mundo said it had learned on good authority the government had asked for appropriations totaling 1,115,000,000 pesos ($334,500,000).

This sum was said to be divided as follows: 680,000,000 pesos ($204,000,000) for the army, 385,000,000 pesos ($115,500,000) for the navy and 50,000,000 pesos ($15,000,000) for war industries.

Britain Captures Diamond Trade

LONDON (CP)—Hitler's conquest of the Low Countries has made it possible for Britain to take command of the world's diamond trade. Those countries held a virtual monopoly in cutting diamonds for jewelry, but now the industry is being rebuilt in Birmingham.

London always was the market for 98 per cent of the rough diamonds produced, and Britain in peace time had developed a sizeable business cutting diamonds for industrial use. But the gem cutting was centralized in Antwerp and Amsterdam, where the annual turnover ran into millions of dollars.

With the Low Countries under Nazi rule and cut off from Britain, no rough diamonds are reaching them, and many of their technicians escaped here. A market for the gems remains in the United States and other countries, and that means piling up precious foreign exchange.

J. C. Ginder, diamond merchant in London's famous Hatton Garden, headquarters for the trade, is helping rebuild the industry here. A national group has been formed under the Board of Trade.

Special Court To Try Daladier
 VICHY, France (AP)—A special tribunal will be set up to try former Premier Edouard Daladier and other former government leaders for "responsibility" for France's entry into war and for her defeat, it was indicated today.

Establishment of the tribunal can be expected shortly, it was indicated, and some journalists may be tried along with the government leaders.

A military court will look into the cases of men who were in the armed forces at the time of incurring alleged responsibilities for the war. They will be investigated for responsibility for the unsuccessful military leadership.

Beaverbrook and Morgenthau

BRITAIN'S MINISTER OF AIRCRAFT

Production Lord Beaverbrook told a vast invisible audience yesterday that his department had completed arrangements for the purchase of 3,000 military airplanes a month from American factories—in addition to the big program already contracted for in the neighboring republic. United States Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau confirmed the British announcement today by emphasizing the fact that his country had pledged "every facility" for the amount of machines mentioned by the British departmental chief—adding that the government in London "seems to have plenty of money," and that the "sums involved are colossal."

Even the least imaginative person in British lands will take heart from these complementary announcements from London and Washington. Almost from the beginning of the war last September, the Royal Air Force, numbering flying men from all the Dominions and many of the Colonies, established a superiority in fighting prowess and demonstrated the sterling quality of the machines in their charge. But they began their task heavily inferior numerically to the enemy, a serious disadvantage emphasized by Italy's entrance into the war, and complicated still further by the French collapse. The Norwegian venture, the debacle which followed King Leopold's treachery, the epic story of Dunkerque, and the events which finally left the British Empire on its own brought daily reminders to Britons of their serious discrepancy in the supplies of aircraft at the disposal of their dauntless fighting forces. Notwithstanding the serious handicap, however, the R.A.F. set a mark for initiative and daring which it has maintained and increased from week to week—as Germans living in the Rhineland and other parts of the industrial and maritime Reich well know to their intense discomfort and apprehension.

In the last three months, we are told in a dispatch from London, the British air arm has bombed Germany and German-occupied territory more than 1,000 times—raids which have caused "the greatest possible destruction to the enemy's vital war supplies," making new air bases "acquired nearer our shores practically untenable." And to the R.A.F. has fallen the job of adding continually to the difficulties already automatically imposed by geography and weather on the German High Command's program for the invasion of Britain's island fortress. Well may the Beaverbrook-Morgenthau announcements cause Adolf Hitler furiously to think—and defenders of the right much satisfaction.

Democracy and the Home

DEMOCRACY AS A WAY OF LIFE AND as a species of terminology has undergone many forms of blitzkrieg attack from its traducers as well as from some of its former exponents and adherents. Perhaps in the process, to some extent, at any rate, it has been consigned to the realm of abstract philosophies. But it cannot be disposed of so easily. Democracy as we of the British Commonwealth, our friends in the United States, and peoples of other free lands understand it is still a potent force in the associations of decent men and women. It must so remain, not only because its practical application is morally right, but also because it has its roots in the very heart of the family circle. It influences the home and helps to sanctify the hearth of plain folk.

This is the spirit which is animating the people of Great Britain. It explains why they are ready, to quote Mr. Churchill, to meet "the whole might and fury of the enemy," why Hitler will have to break them on their island or lose the war, why the Prime Minister urged his countrymen and countrywomen to bear themselves "that if the British Commonwealth and Empire last for 1,000 years, men will still say: 'This was their finest hour.'" What of the people of Germany? No trace of democracy remains in the Third Reich. Those mothers and fathers who still grieve over the loss of such freedom as they enjoyed under former constitutional dispensations—and once there did exist freedom to think, to speak, and to worship as they desired in the land of the Hohenzollerns—now must keep their thoughts to themselves or incur the wrath of Hitlerized sons and daughters whose fanatical and slavish adherence to the Nazi philosophy sanctions and glorifies the destruction of family life in the name of Adolf Hitler. So is the home exposed to the Gestapo if democratic usage be given the least rein.

Well may it be urged, therefore, that when our people hear democracy spoken of as something belonging to another age, they should indulge in a comparison between the average Canadian home and the average German home. Our form of life, our belief in the freedom of the human spirit, is too precious to admit of the least qualification. The forces of evil and tyranny, the Nazi concept of modern progress and the dignity of the soul, may have captivated effete minds for the time being. Conquered nations in their adversity, in their apparent hopelessness, may have made concessions to the exigencies of the moment. But it requires no super imagination to visualize what this Canada of ours would be were family life to take on a status similar to that obtaining everywhere in Hitler's Reich.

Navy League Needs Help

FOR AN IMPORTANT SEAPORT CITY like Victoria, boasting her strategic advantages as the great Pacific gateway for the ships of all nations, a membership of only 165 in this community's branch of the Navy League of Canada is far from representative and should only require this reminder to induce fresh interest. This organization, incidentally, sponsors the Rainbow Sea Cadet Corps, and it is doing an excellent work among the boys who are looking forward to a life on the ocean wave. More than 150 of these sea cadets at the present time are being prepared for the Canadian Navy and the Canadian Mercantile Marine. Members of the League also have readily accepted the pleasurable responsibility of looking after the interests and entertainment of budding young sailors from the prairie provinces who are undergoing training at Esquimalt. Surely there are many Victorians not members of the Navy League ready and willing to help to cheer these boys—who are apt to become homesick and lonely on Sundays when they have little more to do than walk the streets between the city and Esquimalt. Membership in the organization, however, would furnish new impetus to assist in this unspectacular but highly-important service.

Typically Teuton

MARSHAL PHILIPPE PETAIN'S GOVERNMENT—by the grace of Adolf Hitler—will investigate the causes of France's entrance into the war against Germany. Former Premier Edouard Daladier, head of the government in office last September, has been detained in Marseilles, together with other leaders in French public life who also may be "put on the stand." This move is described as indicative of the intention of the Petain-Laval ministry to enter "a new and more vigorous phase" of activity, the suggestion being dropped that "punishment will come for those responsible for the war."

In the foregoing we see the folds of the Swastika wrapped completely round the old man who fought off the Germans for months at Verdun 24 years ago—with its folds evidently drawn tighter by the willing tool of the Nazi oligarchy, M. Pierre Laval, of Hoare-Laval pact notoriety. This is typically a Teuton manoeuvre, clumsily directed by Hitler and his sycophants, but no matter how the Reich's infamous Gestapo may batter down resistance to the invaders' purposes, the real people of France who were sold out by the men of Bordeaux know who was responsible for the war—and why their country lost its battle.

Use Old-fashioned Method

WHEN HE MADE THE ANNOUNCEMENT of this season's concert sponsored by the British Columbia Electric Railway Company in Beacon Hill Park, Mr. A. T. Goward, vice-president of this important provincial utility, asked that patrons refrain from honking motor horns to give expression to their enthusiastic appreciation of the excellent musical fare provided for their entertainment. He suggested, with due deference to human susceptibilities, that the more orthodox, if not so voracious, method of signifying approval would be less disturbing to musicians and audience alike. But at the conclusion of each of the excellent numbers last night the scream of horns rent the air—despite the request for a less raucous tribute.

Notes

Mussolini's ambition has been to be another Caesar. Pronounced seizer.

The British Columbians who experience that sinking feeling when they look at what remains of their pay cheques after government deductions, should think of the poor Montrealese now. In addition to all the federal taxes, he must pay at 2 per cent provincial sales tax and 2 per cent municipal sales tax.

Hon. J. L. Isley's assumption of the Ministry of Finance brings up the fact that of the last 11 finance ministers, seven have been from the Maritime provinces: Tupper, Fielding, Rhodes, Ralston and Isley from Nova Scotia; Foster and Bennett from New Brunswick. Of Canada's other ministers of finance, Robb was from Quebec, Drayton and White from Ontario, Dunning from the Old Country via Saskatchewan. Hon. A. K. MacLean, a Nova Scotian, delivered one of the budgets. Six of the 11 ministers have been Baptists—Tupper, Foster, Fielding, Rhodes, Rayston and Isley.

GOOD SENSE PREVAILS

From Vancouver News-Herald
The Winnipeg City Council by its action in reconsidering previous decision to withhold contracts from the Ford Motor Co. of Canada should put an end to any feeling against this Canadian company because of Mr. Ford's action in refusing defence orders in the United States.

A good many people were angered by Mr. Ford's attitude. But to vent displeasure against the company that bore his name in Canada was neither good sense nor fair and just. The company is a purely Canadian organization. It has been in the forefront of those industrial organizations volunteering its services and equipment in the production of military supplies. Mr. Campbell, its president, rendered invaluable service when he undertook to organize war purchases for the government.

The fair-minded people of Canada will agree that Ford of Canada has proved its patriotism.

Reverent Thoughts

And if we walk contrary unto me, and will not hearken unto me, I will bring seven times more plagues upon you according to your sins.—Leviticus 26:21.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

STRANGE VISITOR

MR. GUS SIVERTZ of the Vancouver Sun apparently has been enjoying the hospitality of his native Victoria lately. Alas, how his life in Vancouver has changed and blighted him! One would expect that, for Vancouver always blights a Victorian. I was there yesterday and am quite withered on the stalk.

Well, Mr. Sivertz comes over here for a holiday and returns with a grisly tale, which he tells with morbid detail in the columns of the Sun. (How I detect a newspaperman who goes from one city to another, insulting it, and then rushing away under cover of night, like a hit-and-run driver. Nothing could be lower, and no one should know that better than I do.)

Mr. Sivertz is enraged, apparently, by the traffic of Victoria. He says that no one here pays the least attention to traffic regulations. Pedestrians don't even bother with traffic lights. No driver knows where any other driver is going, and the great civic sport consists in driving your car into somebody else's mudguard. I gather that in this innocent contest, Mr. Sivertz piled up quite a good score. But then, he is a skilful driver and, trained in Vancouver, could hit a mudguard unerringly in the dark.

However, we can afford to pass over lightly these horrid falsehoods. Mr. Sivertz doesn't really believe them, but it is the thing to say. Every Vancouver man returning home from Victoria feels he must picture us as a village of drowsy half-wits. We understand and like it. And really it is pure envy, you know, and nostalgia. Mr. Sivertz confesses it when he comes to describe the typical Victorian.

CURIOUS CREATURE

YOU WOULD HARDLY recognize yourself in this description. The typical Victorian lives on the seashore, under oaks and immemorial elms, in a big house full of English china and miniatures of his great grandfather, and at night he goes forth to fish for salmon and in the morning he dashes into the sea for a cold plunge, and all about him the world swells wildly, without touching him. And if he goes to town for an hour's sport of fender bumping he returns soon and shakes the dust of civilization from his feet.

So we appear in the envious eyes of the civilized men from Vancouver. Alas, the lies about us are not true. If we could only fulfill the monstrous dimensions that these visitors draw for us! If we could only live up to their mendacity! If we were only as backward and barbaric as they allege, how happy we would be!

Unfortunately, the lies are not true. We do not disobey the traffic lights. (Would that we had the courage!) We do not bump fenders. (We lack the hardihood to indulge in such harmless sport.) We don't go fishing at night or swimming in the morning. (We are too busy earning a living and taking the money of such visitors as Mr. Sivertz, who don't understand us.) No, the ghastly truth is that we are like other people. We are like the people of Vancouver, God help us all.

NOT QUITE

AND YET NOT QUITE. Civilization has advanced a little further over there and the individual free man has retreated a little further. I realized that when a friend drove me to the community inspection centre where, twice a year, the Vancouver motorist must submit his car to the gaze of the city council's experts. If the brakes and other contraptions work all right, the free citizen of Vancouver is given a card which entitles him to drive for six months more.

However, something is usually "wrong." My friend was told that he must remove the little lights from the front fenders, and they wouldn't trust him to do it. He had to remove them and then report back within a week. And every year, in endless processions, the automobiles are examined for safety. And every year, in endless funerals, Vancouver buries the victims of traffic accidents between cars in perfect mechanical condition driven by persons whose minds only hit on one cylinder.

WORSE TO COME

THEY ARE PREVENTING the circulation of dangerous automobiles today. The process does not stop there, for greater dangers are in circulation. Every man walking the streets is more dangerous to his fellows than any machine. He harbors diseases which destroy far more people than automobiles can hope to do. He harbors ideas that destroy whole civilizations. But nobody inspects his body. Nobody bothers about his mind in the least.

Well, give us time. Within a few years you will walk, not drive, through inspection bureaus where your body will be examined and your mind inspected for loose brakes, defective steering and badly-focused lights. You will be told to return within a week with your tonsils and appendix removed, your gall bladder in better repair, your heart reined, your lungs retrained. You will be given a week to get your ideas changed, your political theories retreated, new brake-lining on your economics, and your attitude towards the government refocused to prevent dazzling your neighbor.

And finally, if you are not made skid-proof, if your mind still shines too brightly on the public highway, if your views cannot be parked conveniently parallel to the curb, if you don't obey the red light of civilization, you will be junked with all the other worn-out jalopies and shipped to Japan as scrap.

That, more or less, is what we know the inspector in Vancouver when he looked at my friend's car. The young man listened patiently and told my friend to come back within a week to prove that the lights had been taken off his mudguards.

The three great religious groups, Catholic, Protestant and Jewish, have at last been forced into the realization that the "nihilist" revolution is directed against them, too.—Rabbi David A. Goldstein.

A FORGOTTEN CHAMBERLAIN

A MEMBER OF another Chamberlain family did more than anyone else to set Germany on the insane path to world conquest or general disaster. He was Stewart Houston Chamberlain, who admired the Germans so much that he became the most passionate and irrational advocate of German world rule. He gave up his British citizenship, married the daughter of Richard Wagner, and wrote "The Foundations of the Nineteenth Century," one of the few books Adolf Hitler ever read.

This renegade Englishman, even after the last war, believed in the German right to rule. "This German," he wrote, "for 1,500 years has been the only creative force of our civilization." He was a man who went further, "it is a dire necessity that the German language and not English shall become the language of the world. If the English language should be victorious the culture of mankind is doomed."

Chamberlain argued that all genius was German. When the facts seemed to contradict the theory he escaped thus: If a man were a genius he simply must be a German. Hence Dante was not really an Italian but a German. This theory has become the religion of the Nazi Party. If we wonder how Hitler can induce tens of thousands of fine-looking young fellows to believe in the silly stuff they give out, let us remember that for years they have heard absolutely nothing but what Hitler wanted them to hear. For years, even before he came into power in Germany, the same kind of nonsense was being handed out to boys in camp as is now being handed out in Nazi papers in the United States.

Take this tidbit from a New York Nazi organ, Deutscher Weckruf und Beobachter: "Quite a number of people also describe the German classical author Shakespeare as belonging to English literature, because, quite accidentally, born at Stratford-on-Avon, he was forced by the authorities of that country to write in English."

It was Barnum who said there is one born every minute. But Hitler seemed to have speeded up the production. And an Englishman started it.

Price of Youth Neglect

From Ottawa Citizen

LIKE A MAN suddenly beset by his creditors who rushes to the bank to see how much he has in an account into which he has deposited nothing for years, Canada, in a war emergency, has decided on a national register of manpower, hoping for the best.

In the depression era of recent memory, it was consistently drilled into the government from quarters which could see further than the goal of a balanced budget that something should be done, at any cost, to make use of the enormous reservoir of youth that trickled, undirected and untrained, across the country in search of employment.

Between viewing with alarm and pointing with pride—all depending which side our parliamentarians were on—Canada's young men and women were shooed away from the railway sidings and employment offices and told to be of brave heart for there would be a month's harvesting in August.

NOW THERE IS TO BE a spectacularly speeded-up national register which is to determine the war capacity of the nation. There is no doubt that those called on to register will put on as brave a front as they can, but it would bring home the tragedy of recent, neglectful years if 100,000 young men were to fill out their registration forms like this:

Age—Old enough to remember long years of government neglect. Too young to remember consideration from anyone.

Physical condition—Under-nourished.

Domestic responsibilities—If I'm single, I'm a slacker; if I'm married with a couple of kids, I should have known better than to acquire those responsibilities without a job.

Trade—none.

Occupation—Ducking vagrancy charges while looking for work.

Profession—Who me? Willingness to serve—Certainty! Just find something I can do.

"Find something I can do." That will be the tremendous task of the registration committee, which will find all Canada only too eager to serve. But the committee, trying to gear Canada's effort to its greatest possibilities, is bound to come face to face with thousands of distressing cases of inability to do anything, the results of government neglect.

TREEING THE PRAIRIES

From Winnipeg Free Press

This year, it is estimated, will see Canada's largest annual tree shipment from the federal nurseries at Indian Head and Sutherland. Seven and a half million broad-leaf seedlings were distributed to 6,500 farms from Manitoba to Peace River. The two nurseries also sent out 150,000 evergreen seedlings.

These valuable additions to rural comfort cost farmers nothing but their own labor, except in the case of the evergreens which carry a nominal charge. The fact that during the last 35 years more than 60,000 farms have been thus provided with shelter belts, is evidence of the farmers' appreciation of trees around their buildings. A vast number of Canadian prairie farms are becoming "home sweet home" with a real meaning.

NEED MORE CEDAR SALES

From B.C. Financial News
Urgently needed in British Columbia's forest situation is a wider use of cedar, in many respects the finest wood British Columbia produces.

At present the emphasis is so much on fir and spruce that a big accumulation of cedar logs is piling up and the situation in the industry is becoming unbalanced. The result is a marketing problem, the task, to make consumers aware of the splendid qualities of red cedar. More extensive sales of the wood in the United Kingdom in place of fir probably offers the readiest solution, although the domestic market could probably be built to larger proportions by advertising oiled cedar siding as an outside finish for homes.

GOVERNESSES' SNOBBERY

BETTER LEFT AT HOME

From Financial Post

It is generally admitted at Ottawa that the excessive publicity given to the titular distinctions of the first batches of young evacuees was unfortunate. And it is obvious that many of the first arrivals—and their governesses—had scant respect for the colonial possession to which they had come. But the British Empire has survived worse things than the snobbery of English governesses.

JESUS TAUGHT BY DEMONSTRATION

Jesus taught the way of life by demonstration, that we may understand how this divine principle heals the sick, casts out error, and triumphs over death. Jesus presented the ideal of God better than could any man whose origin was less spiritual. By his obedience to God, he demonstrated more spiritually than all others the principle of being. Hence the force of his admonition, "If ye love me, keep my commandments."—Mary Baker Eddy.

NAMING THE CHILDREN

To the Editor:—There seems to be a difficulty in getting a suitable name for the "refugee" children coming to this country. As, I hope, they will be abiding with us for only a short time, I would suggest we call them "Bide-a-wees."

FRED. W. HARDING.

HUNDREDS ENJOY CONCERT IN PARK

The first of the series of summer evening concerts in Beacon

ADD ZEST!

Hill Park by the Victoria Philharmonic Orchestra, sponsored by the B.C. Electric Railway Company, received an enthusiastic reception last evening as a variety program was presented to a crowd of several hundred.

Assisting the orchestra were Thomas Crabbe, baritone, and Miss Winnifred Applegate, soprano, and in several of the more popular selections the crowd joined to make a community sing.

The orchestra, directed by Alfred Prescott, presented a well-chosen group, ranging from classical to operetta. During an intermission the organization of the Philharmonic Orchestra was outlined by Herbert Kent, who also told of the B.C. Electric's invitation to have the orchestra give three concerts during the summer. Weekly programs which have recently been held in the park under city sponsorship were praised as a means for entertaining local residents and travelers.

Selections by the orchestra included: March, "La Reine de Sada," (Gounod); overture, "Hungarian Lustspiel" (Kela Béla); selections from "The Mikado"; waltz, "The Gipsy Baron," (Strauss); "Spring's Awakening," "Easter Flowers," "Friend o' Mine," "Until" and others.

Miss Applegate sang "Polonaise," from "Mignon" (Thomas), and "Glanina Mia," from "The Firefly," Mr. Crabbe sang "There'll Always Be an England," and "Land of Hope and Glory." The two voices made a fine combination in the duet "Morning" (Oley Speaks) and "Indian Love Song" from "Rose Marie," full orchestral accompaniment being provided.

The Citadel Band, under the leadership of Bandmaster Max Chalk, will be in charge of the weekly public meeting in the Salvation Army Citadel, Broad Street this evening, commencing at 8. Percy Willis of the Shantymen's Christian Association will give an evangelical address and musical selections will be rendered by the band.

Splash Party

They take their nursery rhymes with a dash of water at Summer School.

At least they did Tuesday night at a splash party in the Crystal Garden.

Highlight of the evening was the aquatic enactment of the Mother Goose classics: "In and Out the Window," "Three Men in a Tub," "Hickory Dickory Dock," and "Humpty Dumpty."

The party opened with a game of follow the leader, led by Ernie Lee, physical education instructor, followed with a relay race and a girls' balloon race, continued with a stunt diving performance starring George Grant's Liberty Dive, and wound up with a candle race.

About 150 took part, joining in the swim at the close of the program.

NEW PASTOR WILL BE HERE AUGUST 11

Archdeacon W. C. Western, newly-appointed rector of St. Paul's Church, Esquimalt, will take over his new duties on August 11.

Archdeacon Western left his pastorate at St. John's, Moose Jaw, on July 16 and is enjoying a holiday before coming to the coast.

Just before his departure, Archdeacon Western was honored with the degree of doctor of divinity honoris causa at a special convocation of St. Chad's College. Presiding at the gathering was Rt. Rev. H. E. Knowles, Bishop of Qu'Appelle, who has been associated with the archdeacon for 30 years and preached the sermon at Mr. Western's ordination, and also conducted his induction at St. John's.

Withdraws Charge

Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer has ordered withdrawal of a charge of manslaughter against Private William Richardson, of the Rocky Mountain Rangers, at Kamloops, in connection with the death of Private Thomas Donnelly, of the same unit, on July 15.

Richardson and Donnelly engaged in an argument. Donnelly collapsed and died before blows were struck. An inquest revealed he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage due to excitement.

Withdrawal of the charge against Richardson followed receipt of the coroner's report at the Attorney-General's office.

Mr. W. C. Western, Minister of Mines, and Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, will leave next Monday for a visit to Atlin, which Mr. Asselstine represents. Besides looking over new mining

OIL COMPANIES SEE BOARD ON PRICES

The Coal and Petroleum Control Board resumed negotiations with oil company representatives to arrive at a definite basis for fixing production costs that will be accepted as a rule for the board's price-fixing on gasoline.

Negotiations have been in progress since the sensational "gas strike" in April as oil companies claimed their costs had been increased due to war conditions.

The board is hearing representations to determine how the added costs affect the companies. When the basis is reached the board will consider whether it is necessary to revise its order setting

The members of St. Matthias' Choir and their friends held their annual picnic on Saturday afternoon at Elk Lake. Miss Muriel Malcolm and W. Anders arranged an enjoyable program of contests, swimming and roller skating. Chaplain Alan Gardiner and Mrs. Gardiner, Archdeacon Cornish and the former organist, Eric Edwards and Mrs. Edwards, were present.

Canadian Women Are Helping in 'Y' Huts

LONDON, Eng. — Canadian women in England are taking an important part in the services to Canadian soldiers being provided by the Canadian Y.M.C.A. In several of the "Y" centres established in areas where Canadian troops are concentrated these women from the Dominion have served in the hut kitchens, arranged curtains and furnishings, mended soldiers' socks, acted as hostesses at dances and partners in bridge and other games.

Mrs. A. G. L. McNaughton, wife of the Canadian commander-in-chief and now Corps Commander in the British Active Service Force, offered to assist in the Y.M.C.A. work and has taken an important part in arranging various functions for the Canadian troops. Trained Y.M.C.A. officers who are responsible for the various sports, social, educational and religious programs have frequently expressed their appreciation of the services being given voluntarily by the women in Britain. Many of the women helpers are wives of officers and men in the Canadian forces.

Dr. and Mrs. Carl E. Buck, of Rye, New York, have been guests this week of Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Amyot, Queenswood. Dr. Buck is field director of the American Public Health Association.

Fete at 'Casanora' Nets $220 for Chapter

In the lovely setting furnished by the spacious garden at "Casanora," Beach Drive, Oak Bay, the home of Mrs. Gordon Hepburn, members of the Florence Nightingale Chapter I.O.D.E. yesterday afternoon held a garden party, which netted the handsome sum of $220 for the chapter's patriotic and philanthropic work.

Mrs. Kyrle Symons, Municipal Regent, formally opened the affair with a few happily chosen words, in which she attested to the splendid work of the chapter and also tendered thanks to Mrs. Gordon Hepburn for her kindness in opening her lovely garden in the chapter's interests.

Mrs. James Baker, regent of the chapter, thanked Mrs. Symons and Mrs. Hepburn on behalf of the members and implemented her thanks by presenting both with a beautiful Colonial bouquet in pastel tones of pink and orchid. Guests enjoyed wandering through the garden, with its specious lawns, beautiful old trees, fascinating rock pools and its Vista of sea and distant Olympics. Under the trees were arranged stalls of home cooking and home-made candies, while the "mile of pennies" and the game of bingo attracted many patrons.

Tea was served on the lawn overlooking the beach by a bevy of members headed by Mrs. F. W. Baylis. Much interest was shown in the display of knitted sweaters, scarfs, socks and mitts made by chapter members and friends and

GASSY, UPSET STOMACH AND SLUGGISHNESS GONE! THANKS MOSBY'S TONIC!

Mr. Parker of Rocky Point, Victoria, Had Suffered Almost Constantly Sharp Gas Pains in Stomach and Felt Weak and Nervous—“Oh! But I Was in Distress,” He Says—“But Now, Since I Took Mosby's Tonic I Feel Fine and Can't Praise This Medicine Enough!”

MR. A. T. PARKER of R.M.D. 1, Rocky Point, Victoria, Who Tells in This Announcement How MOSBY'S TONIC Relieved His Long Period of Suffering.

Some of the Leading Druggists of Victoria and throughout Vancouver Island now frankly say they have never seen anything like the widely known Local Residents continue to come forward day after day and publicly endorse this New, Scientific Medicine, known as MOSBY'S TONIC, which is now being introduced to the public daily in this city at the Cunningham Drug Store, Fort and Douglas Streets. These are all truthful, sincere testimonials, given by these men and women to help other people who suffer as they did, and all of the statements are Truly Worth Reading. For instance, just a few days ago, Mr. A. T. Parker of R.M.D. 1, Rocky Point, Victoria, made the following statement about Mosby's Tonic. Read what he says:

Tells of Long Period Of Stomach Distress

“For a long time I had about the worst kind of distress with my stomach that anybody could endure, so I know what it means to suffer, and that is why I want to give you my statement and publicly endorse Mosby's Tonic, for I know what this Splendid Medicine did for me, and if I can help one else to get the same relief by telling them of Mosby's Tonic, then I certainly want to do it,” said Mr. Parker. “I had such an upset stomach that every time I ate a meal I would bloat up with gas and had distressful gas pains all through my stomach organs. I suffered so badly I can't even describe it. Also had a sluggish liver and my bowels were badly constipated. I felt weak and run down as a result of all this suffering and was very nervous.”

Now Tells How Mosby's Tonic Gave Relief

“Well, that's the condition I was in, and I didn't know where to turn for any relief, and then I began to hear so much about Mosby's Tonic and what it was doing for so many people that I made up my mind to try it. So I got this medicine and I want to tell you that it gave me a Quick and Splendid Relief. Now those gas pains are gone and I don't suffer with those bloating spells in my stomach any more. Constipation and nervousness are relieved, and I don't feel weak and run down like I used to. Another thing, I can sleep better than I have in many years, and I get up in the mornings feeling fine. Oh! how this medicine helped me! I gladly endorse it to all who suffer as I did.”

It Helps to Clear Away The Poisonous Wastes

MOSBY'S TONIC helps to clear away poisonous wastes from the system in several ways at once—that is, it acts as a cathartic, laxative, choleragogue and diuretic all at the same time and helps cleanse bowels, sets to work to clear excess impurities from kidneys, brings forth gas and bloating from stomach and stimulates the flow of liver bile. Many people write us they soon feel like different men and women as a result of this cleansing and invigorating action of Mosby's Tonic. I can sleep better due to the immense volume in which it sells, the price of Mosby's Tonic is reasonable. So don't hesitate. Get Mosby's Tonic—TODAY!

MOSBY'S TONIC is sold in Victoria at the CUNNINGHAM DRUG STORE, Fort and Douglas Sts., and also sold by all Leading Druggists throughout Victoria and Vancouver Island.

After the quiet ceremony, a buffet luncheon for members of the bridal party and immediate relatives was served at the home of the bride's parents.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Bell left for a short honeymoon trip up island, the bride donning a navy blue tailored suit, with white lace blouse and navy and white accessories, and will make their home in Victoria on their return.

I.O.D.E. Ship Cases Of Field Comforts

At a meeting of the war convalescers of the I.O.D.E. held at headquarters, with the convener, Mrs. J. L. Gates, in the chair, it was learned from National Chapter that a new system of distribution of field comforts for the fighting forces had been evolved through the courtesy of the Red Cross.

Lady Tweedsmuir has consented to act as the order's representative in England, and three large cases were immediately shipped from the Victoria chapters to Canadian boys overseas as follows: To the navy in the Atlantic and North Sea—Socks, 90 pairs; cloth helmets, 41; sea scarfs, 72; pullover scarfs, 10; mitts, 53 pairs; seaboot socks, 2 pairs; wristlets, 140 pairs. To Canadian army overseas—Socks, 52 pairs; housewives, 16; sweaters, 40; scarfs, 72; army helmets, 12. To the Canadian air force overseas—Sweaters, 31; socks, 15 pairs.

Rid and leather for windbreakers and blankets for evacuee children were also shipped. One hundred and nineteen pairs of socks and handkerchiefs are being sent to the armories for the Victoria men leaving for overseas, making 200 pairs in all.

The evacuee clothing to be accepted for overseas refugees must be new, and all used clothing will be taken care of in Canada, where we have demands, Mrs. Gates reported.

Socks donated by the public are more acceptable-made in grey wheeling wool, which are free from eye and less liable to shrink than other kinds. It was reported that all chapters in Victoria had responded generously to the Bomber Fund.

Mrs. D. Hagar informed the meeting that the I.O.D.E. Unit Emergency Service, sponsored by General Motors, have 84 members in the three classes. Many applications are in for enrollment in future classes.

Comforts turned in at the meeting included: Socks, 151 pairs; sweaters, 40; wristlets, 38 pairs; scarfs, 36; helmets, 19; housewives, 18; gloves, 1 pair; ditty bags, 20; seaboot socks, 1 pair; total value of same, $304.75.

Mrs. J. Quinn reported that 145,650 magazines have been distributed during the past month to forts, ships and camps. These are received through the efforts of National Chapter from Vancouver and isolated primaries, magazines, games and puzzles being also provided by Victoria chapters.

A special appeal is made to friends of the order in Victoria

Final Clash This Evening

PRAIRIE CLIMATE apparently agrees with one Victorian Doug Todd, who left the city last spring to take over the position of professional with the Edmonton Golf and Country Club, writes us he recently blasted out a brilliant 67 to equal the course record.

Todd states it was the finest round he has ever played, since he took up the game as a youngster while working as a caddy at Oak Bay. Doug was only over par on one-hole, the ninth, and on that occasion smacked two fine shots to the green and then three-putted for a five. Par for the course is 72. The layout is 5,980 yards and includes three holes over 400 yards.

During the round the Victoria youngster reeled off 12 pars and five birdies. He was out in 34 and back in 33. His score equalled the course record held by Jim Mountfield. The layout is recognized as one of the toughest on the prairies.

Todd, at the time of his feat, was playing with Bill Carse, well-known hockey player of the Chicago Black Hawks. Todd states Carse, who plays from a five handicap, can turn in a sweet game of golf. There is a possibility Todd and Carse will go to Calgary and challenge Stan Leonard, former Vancouver star, and Vic Ripley, another hockey star, for the Eaton trophy. This award is played for on the challenge basis, with the champions holding it until beaten on their home links.

The Victoria boy likes his job and has much praise for the Edmonton layout. "I came here expecting hard fairways, greens, but I'll bet our course is in better shape than most of them out on the coast," he says. "It has been a grand summer for golf courses, with plenty of rain and heavy dew at night. The members here are swell, but naturally the playing membership has been decreased somewhat by the war."

Todd's card for the record round follows:
Out 34 33 35 43 35 34
In 43 44 44 44 33 37

Lacrosse fans will see one of the finest teams in Canada in action Friday when Vancouver Burrards battle Victoria All-stars at the Willows, with proceeds being turned over to the Red Cross. In view of the fact that Burrards are current leaders in their own league and considering the worthy cause, it is certain Victorians will turn out in force to lend the exhibition their support.

Two exhibition ball games between the Ethiopians Clowns and Victoria proved interesting. The negro club lived up to advance reports, being one of the smoothest to play here in years. The Clowns finished in third place in the big tournament for independent clubs at Kansas City last season and their manager informed us he fully expects to either cop the honors or finish second this year.

OLD MAN TILDEN DEFEATS PERRY

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Booming drives and magnificent cross-court play compensated for lack of speed afoot yesterday as William T. Tilden emerged the dominant figure in a series of tennis exhibitions highlighting Salt Lake City's pioneer day celebration.

The 47-year-old professional defeated Fred Perry of England, twice Wimbledon champion, in straight sets, 6-3, 9-7, to win the feature singles match.

He then combined with Ben Gorchakoff of Beverly Hills, California, third in the party of touring professionals, to stop Perry and Roland Bloomstrand, Salt Lake City pro, 7-5, 6-3, in doubles.

As a final, tour-de-force, Tilden met the simultaneous challenge of four Salt Lake juniors and repulsed them all in a single set, 6-4.

Three Players Fined

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Coscarart and Whitlow Wyatt of Brooklyn, Dodgers, and Louis Frey of Cincinnati Reds were fined $25 each yesterday by President Ford Frick of the National League as an aftermath of Tuesday's fight at Ebbets Field.

Upsets Feature U.S. Golf Play

DETROIT (AP) — Championship dreams of 48 golfers for supremacy in the United States public links championship turned into nightmares yesterday in two rounds of match competition that produced a series of startling upsets.

Sixteen survivors were to struggle through two more rounds over the Rackman Municipal course today.

Still in the contention were those par-wrecking youngsters—Worth Stimilis Jr., Colorado Springs, Colo., and Edward J. Furgol, Utica, N.Y., who set a qualifying record of 138 Tuesday, but only one can survive today because the fate of the draw has paired them in a third-round contest.

Andrew Szwedko of Pittsburgh, defending champion, faced before William Bubliss, Chicago, 3 and 2.

David A. Mitchell of Atlanta, 1934 victor, lost to William Dool of Louisville when the latter put down a fine putt for a birdie three on the final green.

Carl K. Kauffmann of Pittsburgh, the 1927, 1928, and 1929 champion, bowed to Jack Larose, 19, of Detroit, 2 and 1.

McLellan and Milliken; Bridger and Baker.

Defeating Bull Brothers 6 to 5 for their second straight victory at Victoria West Park, H.M.C. Dockyard last night reached the B section final. The Dockyard lads will engage Harknett Fuel in the deciding series.

In women's games last night Cardinals defeated the Unitys 14 to 10 and Hunt's Garage turned back the Adverts 14 to 8. The victory placed Cardinals back in first place.

Eagles moved into a first-place tie with Tillicum Cubs in second division baseball last night by defeating Cedar Hill 9 to 5 at Beacon Hill. Cubs and Eagles will battle Tuesday night in a sudden-death game to decide the first-place club for the playoffs.

Reds on Rampage

Beat Dodgers Again

Cincinnati Reds look better day by day and twice as good by night. They thrashed Brooklyn Dodgers, 6 to 3 last night for Bucky Walters' 15th victory this season, in the only other National League game, the Boston Bees beat the Chicago Cubs, 4 to 3.

While the Reds have been settling the pennant dispute in the National League to all intents and purposes, the American League field has narrowed to two teams—Detroit and Cleveland.

Both won yesterday as the junior circuit came up with one of the wildest days in its history. The Tigers kept half a game in front with a 7 to 5 decision over Washington Senators that was credited to Freddie Hutchinson, their $70,000 rookie.

The Indians squeezed past Philadelphia Athletics, 7 to 6, with Roy Weatherly's two-run homer providing the principal impetus.

Chicago White Sox rolled up 20 hits in beating the Boston Red Sox, 12 to 10.

St. Louis Browns ripped open New York Yankees, 14 to 12, after the Yanks had tallied six runs in the first frame. The Yanks got four homers, including one by Bill Dickey with the bases loaded and another by Joe DiMaggio.

COAST LEAGUE

In Portland, where they ought to pay athletes overtime, the Seattle Rainiers fattened their Coast League lead with twin wins, 7 to 5 and 3 to 2, in another of those night-doubt-header-with-extra-innings affairs.

The last-place Portland Beavers gave their all trying to repeat Tuesday's performance of winning the nightcap, but all they got was a 7 to 5 decision over the national pastime.

Seattle's chances for a second pennant were brighter than ever today. The Rainiers have won 17, lost 40 for a .655 percentage.

Red Cross Lacrosse

The fast, thrilling game of lacrosse is Canada's great national game. The Canadian Red Cross Society in wartime Canada is the Dominion's greatest and most important organization. There is a lot of fitting that these two great Canadian institutions should get together in a co-operative spirit in Victoria.

The Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse Association during the last 10 months or more has had much opportunity to see the fine qualities of the Red Cross and has now come forward to do its bit in helping the nation-wide organization to continue its great work.

The association's helping hand will be in the form of a benefit game between Vancouver's top-ranking Burrards and a powerful Victoria All-star force.

They will collide tomorrow night in the Willows Sports Centre, with net proceeds going to swell the coffers of the Red Cross.

McLean's Bakery vs. Owl Drug will be the preliminary fixture.

The exhibition should prove to be this season's finest bit of stickwielding warfare and it is believed the auditorium will be filled to capacity.

The Burrards are tops in the mainland intercity league and it will be a treat to watch them in action. While Victoria's box lacrosse lads have only had four seasons of experience they nevertheless have attained a fine knowledge of the game in that time and are expected to give the mainlanders one of their toughest fights.

In this Red Cross layout are eight of the Victoria players who will be wearing the Capital City colors in the battle. From the top, and traveling around with the clock, the players are: Harold Bischofberger, Norm Coates, Ed Pridham, Tom Carney, Jimmy Pickford, Ernie Gawley, Lynn Patrick and Norm Baker.

Hank Prusoff Defeats Grant

SEABRIGHT, N.J. (AP) — Defending champion Helen Bernhard of New York and fifth-seeded Bryant M. Grant, Jr., of Atlanta were eliminated yesterday in the third round of the Seabright invitational tennis tournament.

Mary R. Hardwick, second ranking player in Great Britain, defeated Miss Bernhard 4-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Henry Prusoff, Seattle, cut down Grant, 6-2, 6-3.

Frankie Parker of Pasadena, Calif., defending champion, won his first set of the tournament as he defeated Jack Kramer of California, 6-1, 3-6, 6-2.

Bobby Riggs, Chicago, eliminated Owen Anderson, Los Angeles, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, and Elwood T. Cooke, Portland, Ore., ousted George Toled, California, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1.

Alice Marble led the advance to the semifinal round, where she will meet Sarah Palfrey, Brookline, Mass., winner yesterday over young Louise Brough, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Pigeon Racing

The Victoria and District Racing Pigeon Club held its second young bird race from Seattle, an air line distance of 70 miles. One hundred and eighteen birds representing 15 lofts were liberated.

Eight lofts totalling 56 birds competed in the race, the balance of birds being sent for training purposes. Owing to adverse weather conditions the times were not as good as those made the previous week from the same point. Results follow:

Radials Lift Province Cup

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver Radials, Canadian soccer champions, added the British Columbia championship to their laurels today, following a 6 to 1 victory over the favored North Shore United, at Con Jones Park last night.

The final, for possession of the Province Cup, was a best-of-three series. The teams played to a scoreless draw in the first game.

and Radials scored a 3 to 0 victory last Wednesday.

Jackie Johnson opened the scoring for Radials about 10 minutes after the start by retrieving his own rebound and driving it past goalie Jack Rabbit, who had fumbled the first try.

Radials' second goal came shortly after, when Eric Campbell lobbed the leather into the net. North Shore claimed that Rabbit had been interfered with, but referee Alex Murray allowed the goal. Hap Smith made the score 3 to 0, when he drove the ball in from a pass by Reg Liptrott.

SCORE FROM PENALTY

North Shore scored their lone goal a few minutes from time on a penalty against Alex McKibbin for handling in the area. Jimmy Spencer made the spot kick, and left the half-time score at 3 to 1.

Radials broke fast after the break, and Smith sank Radials' fourth goal within a few minutes, when he fired a shot from close in, after taking a pass from Johnny McKay.

About five minutes later, McKay scored a fifth marker for the Canadian champions after Hughie Greer had drawn Rabbit out and flicked the ball to his teammate. Johnson finished the scoring, in the dying minutes of the game when his slow shot deflected off the goalpost into the net.

PLAYS HERE TOMORROW — Al "Greyhound" Saylor, first baseman of the Cincinnati Buckeyes, colored baseball club, which will play a three-game series here tomorrow and Saturday at Athletic Park. A former member of the Atlanta Black Crackers of the Negro American League, Saylor is a smart workman on the initial sack. Organized this year by Abe Saperstein, Chicago promoter, the Buckeyes are reported to be carrying a star-studded line-up. Friday's game is billed for 6, and Saturday's fixtures are scheduled for 2.30 and 6.

Qualicum Bay
A Delightful Resort

Just a few miles north of Qualicum Beach, right off the main Island Highway, there is a district that to many is far more the ideal spot for a summer vacation than the famous beach. This is Qualicum Bay, a delightful crescent of clean, sandy shoreline, where the pleasing life of a summer colony goes steadily on. Because of the famous district of the beach nearby, Qualicum Bay is a quiet spot where those who love peace and quiet come to relax. Where people come for the soothing benefits of sun and salt sea air combined with complete relaxation and lack of any form of ceremony.

Qualicum Bay is fortunate in possessing a charming resort hotel and two modern up-to-date auto camps.

CASA DEL MAR

Casa del Mar is a small tourist and family hotel, situated in a delightful setting on a bend of the road adjacent to both highway and sandy beach. Built in rambling English countryside style with many casement windows and gable roofs and surrounded by a profusion of summer flowers and shrubs it presents a friendly welcome to holiday seekers. There is a comfortable lounge with deep upholstered chairs, couches and a wide stone fireplace. A dining room with tables of dark polished wood and many dainty curtained windows. Bedrooms prettily furnished; clean and airy. Connected with the Inn are one or two comfortable cottages built of cut logs, modern and up-to-date in every way. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Scott of Casa del Mar, are delightful hosts. It is their sincere effort that makes this resort one of the finest holiday spots on the island.

For those who like the Informality and ease of a modern auto camp, Qualicum Bay offers a choice of two, Green Gables Auto Camp and Sunny Beach Auto and Tourist Park. Both are situated just a short distance from Casa del Mar.

MODERN AUTO CAMPS

Green Gables is right on the highway in a well treed acreage that extends for some distance along the beach. Fifteen pretty white and green cabins spotlessly clean and modern make an attractive picture for summer visitors. Each cabin has a breakfast nook with windows looking out over the beach, sea and mountain peaks far beyond. There are new spring-filled mattresses in every bedroom. Pure government-tested spring water is piped throughout the camp. Hot and cold showers, flush toilets and in some of the larger cabins, Rock gas for cooking. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Read of Green Gables are indefatigable in their efforts to have all their guests enjoy a perfect holiday. Special excursions to points of interest in and around Qualicum Bay are taken, picnics are arranged, sports conducted. There is something to interest everyone all through the day.

Sunny Beach Auto and Tourist Park extends in a well treed woodland park on both sides of the highway. Here are comfortable two and three-room furnished cabins, a private beach of clean sand, plenty of room for children to play in safety. The cottages are modern and clean, with running water, showers and toilets. They are well furnished with bedding if desired. There is a store and gas station in connection with the park. Also a lunch counter where delicious meals are cooked to the visitor's liking. Rhythmic and outdoors are for hire. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Griffiths who own and manage this camp have really made it a stopping place everyone will enjoy.

Qualicum Bay offers everything that its big sister, the beach, has in the way of sport. There is salmon fishing right at the

Summer Fun at Mill Bay

Mill Bay is so near to Victoria it is often overlooked in local vacation plans. It remains for visitors from farther away, who have known the beauty spots of the world, to discover this summer district on the Island Highway just beyond the Malahat, and to compare it favorably with other places they have been.

GOOD AUTO CAMP

Rosebank Auto Camp has an interesting setting in a tree-shaded hillside sloping down to the sea. Clean two and three-room cabins, well furnished with inner spring mattresses instantly attract the tourist. Rosebank has electric light and a good gravity water supply. There is a pleasant little tearoom and a good garage right next door. Boats for hire. Warm salt water swimming and bathing and splendid fishing.

PLEASANT GUEST HOUSES

Summerville is really a large countryside home where a few paying guests may spend a perfect summer holiday. It is situated in a private acreage of great trees and flowering shrubs that stretches right to the sea. There is a private beach for swimming and bathing, and boats for hire. The whole atmosphere is one of friendly interest and every guest feels immediately at home. There is no formality. Rooms are simply furnished but spotlessly clean and airy. Delicious food, well cooked is served in the dining room. Mrs. J. L. Caesar, the charming hostess, is interested in seeing that all her guests have a good time. HIGHWAY STATEMENT CHALLENGED

To the Editor:—The writer was interested in June 22 interview with a party of four (Mr. and Mrs. Louis Glazen and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hudson) just back from a road trip to Revelstoke, B.C. The statements in the article are very misleading. Had your reporter received the interview between Yoho Park entrance and Golden or when the motorists had just arrived at Revelstoke, a far different story would have been told. What had they against Sicomous? That part of the roadway condemned is not one bit better or worse than the "perfect shape highway" gravel-surfaced, oil-treated bit he dreamed he traveled on when he came over the Big Bend.

Excepting for potholes, from Calgary to Banff a highway equal to our island roads is available through the park to Yoho entrance. From the entrance of the park to Golden, the roadway, to say the least, is scandalous and should have been immediately action by the Public Works Department.

From Golden to Revelstoke, 187 miles of roadway, is definitely not as described. The road is a fair class C. When one arrives at either end of it the first requirement is a bath—certainly not a meal, as the occupants of the car have eaten too much dust.

From Revelstoke to Sicomous and on to Canoe the highway is no better. From a few miles west to Kamloops it is in good shape.

From Kamloops the highway is narrow and dusty via Nicola and Merritt to Spence's Bridge. From Spence's Bridge to Vancouver the scenery is marvelous. However, the narrow roadway takes away much of the joy of motoring. The surface is in very good condition. This part of the highway provides best accommodation for the tourist, to eat and rest, but in this does not compare with the accommodation offerings for the tourist in this island.

ON CLAIMING GOD

To the Editor:—"God" is widely invoked today. Many millions say they have "God" on their side, the Pope, who claims to be God's Viceroy; the President of the United States, a truly good and well-meaning man; British political leaders and others. But surely it will give pause to those who glibly use that word "God" when Hitler himself also invokes "God" like the Kaiser before him.

Clearly religion is no true dividing line between good and evil, as Unitas and others flatter themselves, but a cross-division. "Crusading" is a motley game. The true criterion is ethics, the knowledge and observance of right and wrong, not religion.

OUR ONLY HOPE

To the Editor:—The traveler wandering through the streets of Pompeii notes signs of the frivolity of the day before when, as Bulwer puts it, crowds in the arena cried: "To the lions, to the lions with Arbaces." Then a small cloud appeared in the sky.

A month ago an editor would surely have refused to publish this; today every thinking man knows what it means.

If France surrenders her fleet our only hope lies in the Royal Navy. It is not now a question of our aiding the Allies, but whether England can save us, whether her fleet can protect this continent. There is room for grave doubt. What avails, Mr. Ford, your 1,000 planes a day, six months hence?

By that time your property may have passed into other hands, and the present writer, as an American citizen, may be stood against the wall.

H. H. WILLCOX.

TO HELP POLAND

To the Editor:—A number of people in Ottawa have formed themselves into what they hope may become the nucleus of similar groups in other Canadian cities. Their object is to find practical ways of helping the cause of the desperately ill-used people of Poland.

Two things are urgently needed: Food for men, women and particularly children still in Poland, hundreds of thousands of whom are quite literally starving to death, and ways of bringing the real facts about conditions in Poland to the attention of the people of Canada.

The question at once arises: What assurance have we that food sent to relieve the starving Poles will not be diverted by the German authorities to their own purposes? A letter just received from the vice-president of the Commission for Polish Relief, in New York, an organization which is doing on a much larger scale in the United States, what the Friends of Poland hope to do in Canada, says that both the Commission for Polish Relief and the American Red Cross have entered into arrangements with the German government by which American supervisors are permitted to enter Poland and personally see that the food and other supplies reach the people for whom they are intended. This arrangement is being carried out with the entire understanding of the British and French governments, which have given special permission for the passage of these foodstuffs through the Allied blockade. It is not necessary to assume any humanitarian intentions on the part of the German government. To have refused American supervision of the distribution of relief would have been to admit their own evil intentions, and they dare not so openly arouse American indignation.

The matter is so urgent that every day lost in taking action may mean the sacrifice of many human lives. Plans are rapidly developing for a campaign for funds throughout Canada.

LAWRENCE J. BUREAU,
Chairman,
Justice Building, Ottawa.

A CANADIAN'S TRIBUTE

To the Editor:—The collapse of France need not necessarily be followed by England's. The "Coq Gaulois" momentarily stepped down from its glorious perch; but the British lion stands defiant on its cliff, foaming at the mouth a terrific challenge to the foe. For in the sight of God a glorious past far outweighs the responsibilities of diplomatic reverses.

England the mighty, the brave, the fair, the Mother of Parliaments; the institutor of the most logical constitution, of the most humane laws; that has given the world the concrete example of principles of trade most consistent with the sacred tenets of Christianity; her merchants in their dealings as straight as the King's sword; the country where in the stern practical side of life hindered not the ethereal expression of the soul in entrancing poetry; surely such a country and such a people can trust fate implicitly.

And close behind the old one, the young lions. What an array and what a challenge! The world shall not be given the heartrending spectacle of the British Commonwealth and all it stands for, crushed in the dust by robots impelled by hatred born of jealousy and lust.

Of London, Kaiser Wilhelm once expressed his admiration in these words, "What a place to loot!" The same enemy with the same urge is now hammering at the gates. But the fleet: mighty guns of all descriptions; the R.A.F. of England belch out the blood-curdling thunders of her ponderous will; and behind it all, galvanized in determination, inspired by centuries of ancestral pride and unshakable self-confidence; riveted to their steel and rooted in their soil; grimly conscious of responsibility, magnificent and terrible, the people of England.

In this gigantic struggle the British Empire expects every man to do his duty.

"DAILY BREAD FUND"

To the Editor:—I feel obliged to call the attention of those readers who did not see it for themselves, to a letter in the New York Times of July 7—to which the Times also gave an editorial. It seems that three men gathered at a bar in New York had reached the point where the third was saying to his reluctant companions "Have another drink in me" when the bartender interpolated, "Gentlemen, if you don't want the drink, why don't you give the money to the Red Cross?"

That started the men thinking. The Red Cross, they said, used to be something for which each one of us, once a year, digs down in his jeans and fishes up a dollar. But with thousands of homeless women and children facing a winter of starvation, the Red Cross becomes something of which we should think, and it is possible to which we should give daily. There must be some small luxury which each one of us could do without each day, before we say the prayer "give us this day our daily bread"—and that was the beginning of the Red Cross Daily Bread Club.

The writer in the New York Times letter figured that if their little club grows no more than the 34 members who immediately subscribed, still the annual contribution would, at the rate of 25 cents a day, amount to $3,000.

Perhaps 25 cents is too much—more than we can pay—but even pennies pile up into dollars. Can't we designate some member of the Red Cross organization as special custodian for the "daily bread fund"—and perhaps, individually, and as we can, make a monthly contribution to the fund for the relief of starving and guiltless fellow men?

Found Peasants Opposed to War

The peasant class of Germany and Italy are not a bad people, they do not want war and if anything could be done now to terminate hostilities they would quit in a moment, R. H. "Bob" Davis, author, world traveler and columnist of the New York Sun, told the Rotary Club in a luncheon address in the Empress Hotel today.

Giving the clubmen some first-hand impressions gleaned from interviews when he was in Europe late last summer and when war broke out, Mr. Davis said Mussolini had made a big mistake in not announcing his intentions before taking the final jump into the war.

Mr. Davis said he had interviewed 6,000 people of the peasant class in Italy and Germany and none had actually wanted war.

Dealing generally with European affairs and the war, Mr. Davis said he did not think England had treated Chamberlain properly.

Island Described Land of Romance

"You have come to sojourn in a land of romance—the most romantic area on the Pacific coast," B. A. McKelvie told the annual picnic of the Alberta Association in Beacon Hill Park on Wednesday afternoon.

Briefly he pictured the fascinating story of Vancouver Island, interrupted during the course of his talk by a low-flying airplane, he pointed to it as it disappeared in the distance, and recalled that men were still living who had come into contact with early settlement on this coast and had witnessed the development of the country from the canoe to the airplane. "What more of historical romance do you desire?" he asked.

Vancouver Island had been the international chess board of the nations, the speaker said.

Buddhist priests were reputed to have found it 1,000 years before Columbus crossed the Atlantic; Queen Elizabeth's rule was imposed upon the island by commerce here, through the exclusive trading privileges she had given to the East India and South Sea Companies; Pope Alexander VI had generously bestowed upon the King of Spain dominion over all lands washed by the waters on the Pacific in the Americas; the island was first occupied by white men when Captain James Cook made a landing at Nootka in 1778, and stayed there for a month refitting his ships, although 200 years before Sir Francis Drake had cruised along the shores of the island as far as Long Beach.

In 1789 British trading ships were seized by Spain's navy at Nootka. This led to a demand from Great Britain for repatriation and an apology. Again the play of nations centered about the island, for Spain, confident in her alliance with France, at first haughtily refused to accede to Britain's demand. But the French Revolution was in the making, and Louis of France had too many troubles at home to start a war with Britain about a place of which he probably never heard. He refused to support Spain, which was forced to accede to the British demand.

It was in connection with the Spanish settlement that Captain George Vancouver came to the island.

On his arrival he found a prosperous Spanish settlement at Nootka. Mr. McKelvie described the Spanish establishment at some length, quoting from documents in his possession. He explained how Capt. Pedro Alberni had made possible the building of the Spanish community by winning the friendship of the Indians by writing a song in the Nootka language. Both Britain and Spain withdrew from Vancouver Island in 1795, he said.

The next occupation of the island came with the establishment of Victoria in 1843.

Mr. McKelvie told how it was through the location of this city that all that portion of Vancouver Island below the 49th parallel was held for the British Crown.

The city had a most romantic story, he said, and within the city there was no more historically fascinating nor more beautiful spot than Beacon Hill Park.

Plan to Widen Road to Colwood

Proposals for widening the Island Highway from Parsons Bridge to Colwood in view of the increased traffic due to military activities is still under consideration, it was learned from the Public Works Department today.

Maintenance crews are now at work repairing shoulders on the highway north of Craigflower Bridge.

UNIFORMED GIRLS SEE LOCAL SIGHTS

Pretty, young girls from many parts of the United States are enjoying the sights and the shops of Victoria these days, as the highlight of their annual vacation camp at Four Winds, Orcas Island.

In their blue and white middie and bloomers, the girls have been seen on the streets in groups in recent days, laden with bundles and postcards for friends and relatives "back home."

Frequently they rent bicycles and pedal to beauty spots around the city—Butchart's Gardens and Hatley Park being favorite spots.

The girls stay, while in Victoria, at Norfolk House School, St. Charles Street.

The group of 20 that arrived by yacht a few days ago left today, another group of 20 taking its place. Two more groups will come to Victoria within the next 10 days.

TOWN TOPICS

Bank clearings for the week ending today were $1,784,862, in comparison with $1,663,519 for the corresponding period of last year.

A request that people who have flow rs to spare get in touch with him is made by Joseph North. He will distribute them to hospital patients on his weekly visits.

The Skeena and Queen Charlotte mining divisions within the administration of the Provincial Mines Department were merged today by special order and the central office designated as Prince Rupert.

Renew Friendship Started in 1903

A friendship which began at the turn of the century was renewed in Victoria Monday when Tom Jennings, 1863 Hollywood Crescent, and F. C. Johnson, Coronation District, Alberta, got together for the celebration of their 60th birthdays.

The day was made a triple celebration as it marked the 29th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jennings.

Mr. Jennings and Mr. Johnson met first just after the Boer War in 1903, at Sandfontein, in South Africa, when both were members of the Cape Mounted Police. They parted toward the end of the year and lost track of each other till 1906, when they met accidentally in the King Edward Hotel at Banff.

They were together again in the Arras front in 1918, during the Great War, later meeting in Calgary a year later. Since that time they have been in frequent touch with each other.

Coast Cities Not Protected Enough

Directors of the British Columbia Fire Chiefs' Association at a special meeting this morning passed a resolution calling for financial assistance from Ottawa to aid in firefighting forces and equipment in Canadian port cities as a wartime necessity. The chiefs are in convention here.

It was pointed out at the meeting that the present strength of forces and equipment in vulnerable Canadian coast cities would be inadequate to cope with an emergency situation, and that swift action on the part of the government to remedy the situation was desired.

The chiefs were of the opinion that such a program of expansion would be too big a financial burden for individual communities to undertake.

The resolution follows: "Whereas, it is recognized that war conditions have produced a situation of the hazard, particularly in port cities of Canada, out of all proportion to the normal; and whereas, such cities are of national importance, serving the war effort of all Canada; and whereas, the provision of extra equipment, personnel, etc., to meet such conditions of extra hazard, would lay an unfair financial burden on the cities concerned;

"Therefore, be it resolved that the government of the Dominion of Canada be asked to give special consideration to the problem, with a view of assisting vulnerable communities financially, and that a conference or conference of officials directly concerned be called in the near future to deal with the matter."

NO DOWNPOUR YET

Today's threatening clouds mean only a light shower, and not a heavy downpour, weather observers at Gonzales said this afternoon.

There will be showers this evening, but tomorrow the weather is expected to clear and be fine and bright, and possibly warm for the week-end.

Gardens and farms could do with a good downpour, but there seems no possibility for a time yet.

STILL ACTIVE IN BUSINESS AT 85

William Henry Bone, 1788 Rockland Avenue, celebrated his 85th birthday today as he continued his regular duties in his office at Diggon-Hibben Limited, a firm with which he has been associated for 70 years.

In excellent health and with a remarkably active mind for his age, Mr. Bone seldom misses a day at business, and during recreational hours often takes in a round of golf.

He is one of this city's pioneer businessmen, commencing his career as an office boy with T. N. Hibben and Company, stationers. Later he became a partner and head of the firm. Under his direction, the firm progressed steadily and in 1912 he built the Hibben-Bone Building. When the firm was taken into Diggon-Hibben Limited in 1929, Mr. Bone retained his connection with it.

He has two daughters, Mrs. A. E. McKelvie, Victoria, and Mrs. G. Gard, Seattle, five grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

A cake, donated by F. Lyons, was won in a guessing contest by Miss M. Vaulthead. A picture, donated by Mrs. Willis, was won by Miss Mackenzie.

The Red Cross will benefit to the extent of $50.

COMMITTEE O.K.'s FIREARMS PLAN

Attorney-General Gordon-Wisner this afternoon was advised from Ottawa that the militia committee of the House of Commons has decided to recommend a nation-wide registration of firearms.

This is in line with the representations for internal security made by Mr. Wisner on his recent visit to Ottawa.

Mr. Wisner urged the action be taken to meet British Columbia's internal security problem but the committee proposes it be nationwide.

The committee suggested that a deadline for registration be fixed as early as practical, Mr. Wisner was informed.

Kamloops Man Heads Firemen

A member of the Kamloops Fire Department, which is housed in a new $40,000 building, Joseph Giddens was elected president of a business session of the B.C. chiefs and firemen's convention being held in the headquarters firehall. Mr. Giddens' chief, W. J. Kerr, was named president of the Fire Chiefs' Association earlier this week.

Chief L. A. Cleland of Courtenay was elected first vice-president and W. S. Williams of Wells, B.C., was chosen second vice-president. Deputy Chief Robert Taylor of Victoria was elected secretary and W. A. Oswald, assistant provincial fire marshal, treasurer. Trustees elected were: Fred Gore, Kelowna, assistant fire marshal and building inspector; George Bailey, Port Alberni; Captain John Anderson, Vancouver, and Claude Houston, Williams Lake.

The constitution of the two-year-old firemen's association was adopted at the meeting.

This morning was devoted chiefly to continuation of instruction classes.

SEE AERIAL LADDER

The visiting chiefs and firemen viewed with interest—if not a little envy—a demonstration at the back of the firehall showing Victoria's new, giant automatic aerial ladder in operation. Chief Gordon A. MacDonald of Nelson fastened himself to the top rung and enjoyed a 90-foot, 6-inch vertical ride. Chief E. Claysday of Oak Bay took a large contingent of visitors out to view his new hall and equipment.

This afternoon was highlighted by drill competitions in the same square, teams from all parts of the province competing. Teams were composed of three men, including a captain. They went through many evolutions of firefighting, their performances being judged on the speed, skill and neatness in which they executed their manoeuvres. Volunteer and paid departments competed separately.

The convention will wind up tonight with a banquet in Spencer's dining-room, starting at 7:30.

Supply Column Mobilizes Here

Mobilization of another non-permanent active militia unit for British Columbia was announced by military headquarters today, requiring 448 men for part-time military training.

It is the Supply Column, 6th Divisional Royal Canadian Army Service Corps.

The headquarters and No. 1 echelon will be in Vancouver, under Major T. H. Wilkinson. No. 2 echelon will be located in Victoria, under Capt. H. L. Rose.

The unit will want 15 officers and 433 other ranks.

With approximately half the supply column to be located here the requirements of militia units in this locality was raised to upward of 1,700 men by today's announcement.

Ranks of the Infantry, artillery and ambulance units are now filling up with a fine type of men. Training for the supply column will be on the same basis as other militia units, with two nights a week to start with and later a period in camp.

Summer School

Show Teachers Chopin Beauties

The style mastery of Frederic Chopin was illustrated by the magic hands of Gertrude Huntly Green to a rapt audience of Summer School teachers as the distinguished Victoria artist presented a piano lecture-recital in Victoria High School's auditorium today.

Reluctant to let her leave the instrument, the assembly called again and again for encores to which Mrs. Green replied with the charm that has made her performances something more than an exhibition of high art.

She spoke briefly of the life of Chopin, born in Warsaw in 1810, the "greatest composer for the piano."

Mrs. Green opened her program with Bach's "Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring," and proceeded with three Chopin preludes, marking on the chorale-like chord of that in C Minor, the questioning and life in that in C Major, and describing as the miniature of a mazurka, that in A Major.

The group concluded with the Study in G Flat, "Butterfly's Wings".

Introducing two mazurkas she cited Huneker definition of that in D Flat as the perfect specimen of the aristocratic mazurka and followed with that in D Major, a selection of determined enjoyment, bubbling with high spirits.

Mrs. Green characterized the Impromptu in C Sharp Minor as the most popular of that group. As a sample of the Polish folk song, she played Liszt's arrangement of "The Maiden's Wish."

Her interpretation of the Funeral March from the B Flat Minor Sonata was a highlight of the performance.

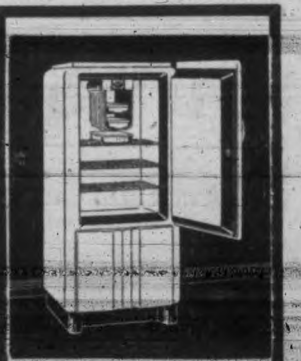

The regular program closed with Ballade, A Flat, a selection of lightheartedness and charm, and the Polonaise in A Flat.

By request she played the Waltz in B Minor, Nocturne in E Flat and three Etudes.

Cats were regarded as sacred animals in ancient times, and as such, enjoyed popular reverence. Later, however, they came to be associated with evil.

elation of Chartered Accountants were: J. Haydn Young, R. W. Underhill and W. G. Rowe.

The 38th annual meeting of the Dominion Association will be held in Montreal early in September, when these three council members will represent the British Columbia Institute.

King Takes Shelter As Nazis Fly Near

A SOUTH COAST PORT IN ENGLAND (CP)—The King was forced to take cover in an air raid shelter during an inspection of naval training camps today, but no bombs were dropped nearby.

His party was just leaving one camp when the alarm came.

King George lighted a cigarette and then strolled to a shelter, witnesses said. He remained inside only a few minutes, however, and after a look at the sky ordered the tour continued.

The King went to the next point on his tour 20 miles away.

Besides the training of British sailors he saw Dutch, French and Norwegian and looked over warships of those nationalities. The fleet air arm put on exhibitions of stunt flying for him.

Mossey Stars In Bowls Meet

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bill Mossey of Cumberland, B.C. is today leading Vancouver Island contestants in their quest for honors in the 18th annual tournament of the British Columbia Lawn Bowling Association.

Mossey yesterday chalked up victories in two separate events—the Seaton singles and Chambers singles—to lead the invaders.

His 21 to 18 victory in the Chambers (champion of champion) singles over D. M. Leith of New Westminster, B.C., yesterday sent him into the semifinal bracket with Johnny Walker of Ilo, B.C., and Cecil Donevan and Bob Maxwell both of Vancouver. He plays Maxwell today.

After passing through the preliminary, first, second and third rounds, the island invader went into the fourth round of the A section of the Seaton singles and will play a fellow-townsman, H. Waterfield, who also made his way through earlier rounds.

CAPITOL BOOKS SOUTH SEA STORY

Teamed for the first time in films, lovely Dorothy Lamour and Robert Preston supply the romance in Paramount's Technicolor South Seas adventure film "Typhoon," which starts Saturday at the Capitol Theatre.

Lynne Overman and J. Carroll Nash will be featured in their supporting roles.

Main setting for the colorful story of "Typhoon" is a small island in the Dutch East Indies, peering grounds. The picture, of course, takes its title from the seasonal storms that lash these waters, one of which forms the climax.

Dorothy Lamour, sarong of sarong girl, this time wears a "lava lava" which, reporters say, is a Polynesian wrap even briefer than the sarong.

Lone Wolf Romance Comes to Dominion

The Lone Wolf, the light-hearted, light-fingered rogue of the screen, returns in another adventure in romance and robbery with the opening tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre of Columbia's "The Lone Wolf Meets a Lady."

Warren William again portrays the adventurer extraordinary who baffles police and underworld with ease as he steals fortunes in gems and feminine hearts.

Michael Lanyard, the Lone Wolf, has ample opportunity to pursue both his famous specialties in the new film, for he has pretty Jean Muir as his leading lady.

Charles Laughton On Cadet Screen

Charles Laughton returns to the screen in a story of swash-buckling adventure when the Cadet Theatre offers his latest Paramount picture, "Jamaica Inn" today.

Supported by a lovely Irish new-comer, Maureen O'Hara, and by Leslie Banks, Robert Newton and Evelyn Williams, Laughton plays the role of Sir Humphrey Pengallan, in the screen adaptation of Daphne du Maurier's novel.

The story has its setting along the coast of Cornwall in England.

'In Old Monterey' Showing at Rio

Gene Autry utilizes a rake, a tin bucket, and a pair of shears to overcome a vicious enemy in a hilarious sequence in Republic's "In Old Monterey," super-western now showing at the Rio Theatre.

Gene's attacker is William Hall, who enacts the role of Gilman. Hall rushes toward the unarmed Gene with a crowbar in his hand, whereupon Gene tips over a rake, steps on it and brings it up between Hall's legs. As Hall goes sprawling, Gene hips a tin bucket over his head, rams his fist down on to wedge it tighter, and the battle is practically over.

PLAZA THEATRE

"Break the News," produced and directed by Rene Clair and starring Jack Buchanan and Maurice Chevalier, is at the Plaza Theatre today. A Jack Buchanan Productions picture, "Break the News" presents these two famous stars of stage and screen in a story which affords them exceptional scope for their combined brilliant talent as well as providing excellent material for the well-known genius of Rene Clair.

Popular Old Story
Showing at Oak Bay

Recreating the thrilling adventure contained in one of the world's foremost best-sellers, Gene Towne's and Graham Baker's presentation of "Swiss Family Robinson" for RKO Radio is said to be one of the greatest human documents brought to the screen in many years, and is now being shown at the Oak Bay.

Replete with comedy, pathos and drama, this dramatic spectacle, with its lavishly constructed sets and picturesque South Sea island background, features such outstanding film players as Thomas Mitchell, Edna Best, Freddie Bartholomew, Terry Kilburn, Tim Holt and Baby Bobby Quillian. Gene Towne and Graham Baker produced the film.

ATLAS THEATRE

Screen writers go to extraordinary lengths to portray the "heavy" in the motion pictures they write, but the "menace" in "Rebecca," the David O. Selznick now on view at the Atlas Theatre, consists of a nightgown, lingerie, boudoir slippers and a $25,000 fur coat.

These are the belongings of the first Mrs. de Winter, the title character of Daphne du Maurier's best-selling novel.

CAPITOL THEATRE

"The Ghost Breakers," starring Bob Hope and Paulette Goddard, is now showing at the Capitol Theatre. The supporting cast in this spine-chilling thriller includes Robert Elliott, Richard Carlson and Paul Lukas.

Trans-Canada May Fly Planes In Stratosphere

OTTAWA (CP)—An efficient commercial airline is proving valuable to Canada in wartime and Trans-Canada Airlines is planning to maintain its service and even develop further in the next year, possibly to the extent of introducing stratosphere planes.

By the spring of 1941 the present fleet of 15 Lockheed "14" planes will be considered out-of-date for the first-class service and experts are considering new types of planes to be used.

While the question is far from settled, officials say it is possible some stratosphere planes might be introduced. These planes recently were put on the regular trans-continental run of a United States airline and are believed to be practical for use in Canada.

The flight from Montreal to Vancouver now takes about 16 hours with four or five stops en route. Stratosphere planes could make the hop in 11 or 12 hours with one stop at Winnipeg. On the return flight the present time of about 14 hours could be reduced proportionately to nine or 10 hours.

Cabins of the stratosphere planes are sealed so passengers will not suffer from altitudes of 20,000 feet or more, which is the flight level of the huge new airliners. Present T.C.A. flights are made at between 5,000 to 8,000 feet on an average.

Flying at such heights, high-powered stratosphere aircraft could cut across Lake Huron and Lake Superior instead of following the present route through northern Ontario. The hop over the Rocky Mountains from Lethbridge to Vancouver would be an easy matter for such craft.

C.N.R. REVENUES

MONTREAL (CP)—Increases of $1,370,322 was reported yesterday by Canadian National Railways in gross revenues of $4,907,208 for the week ended July 21, compared with $3,536,886 in the corresponding period of 1939.

B.C. Salmon Pack Shows Big Increase

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia's sockeye salmon pack for the first three weeks of the current season showed a large gain over that for the same period last year, according to the Dominion fisheries department bulletin release today.

The bulletin said 143,868 cases of sockeye were packed during the three-week period, compared with 109,444 cases for the first three weeks of the 1939 season. The figure was below the 1938 total for the same period of 151,356 cases, however.

Officials of the department here said that a "good average" was being maintained.

Largest packs were registered in the Skeena-River area, where 53,333 cases were packed, an increase over the 1939 total of 46,941 cases. The best sockeye run in years has been reported from this area.

Totals of all fish packed also showed an increase, 197,068 cases of sockeye, spring, steelhead, blueback, coho, pink and chum salmon being caught as against 161,143 for the same period last year.

Upward trends were shown by spring, coho and pink. The steelhead, blueback and chum packs dropped slightly.

PLANE SEEKS AID, EFFECTS RESCUE

LONDON (CP)—German marksmen scoring a hit on an R.A.F. reconnaissance machine's gasoline tank led to a "rescue comedy at sea."

With his gasoline leaking the pilot turned and tried to reach England. His fuel ran out and he landed alongside a small naval vessel. To facilitate rescue, the crew clambered out on the wings. Sailors from the naval craft at once swarmed over the side of their vessel and took up positions on the monoplane's submerged wing.

Alarmed for the safety of his crew, the pilot pointed out to the sailors that he had landed to be rescued by the ship.

"That's funny," said one sailor, "we jumped on to your plane to be rescued ourselves. You see we've just been torpedoed."

Both crews remained clinging

Bryan Renwick Gets Promotion

H. Bryan Renwick of United Air Lines, formerly of Victoria, will become district traffic manager in Vancouver, effective immediately, as successor to O. C. Enge, who is being promoted to district traffic manager for the company at Washington, D.C.

Announcement of the two promotions was made today in a press release here from B. B. Gragg of Chicago, general sales manager of United, who pointed out that Renwick's background as a native of British Columbia, with a wide acquaintance in business and social circles, particularly fits him for the post.

Renwick joined United a year ago as assistant to Enge in the company's Vancouver office. Born in this city, he is son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Renwick, Linden Avenue. He attended public and private schools there, spent a year at the University of British Columbia and was for seven years in the accounting branch of the Provincial Public Works Department at Victoria before joining United Air Lines. His father, now retired, formerly was connected with the provincial lands department.

Promotion of Enge to the capital city of the United States follows almost two years as district traffic manager at Vancouver and more than 10 years of aviation experience. A native of Seattle, he attended public schools in that city, went to West Point Military Academy and returned to the University of Washington to graduate in 1928. From 1930 to 1932 he was with the Boeing Aircraft Company, and on April 1, 1933, joined United Air Lines' Seattle office. He went to Vancouver from the company's Spokane office in October, 1938.

C.P.R. TRAFFIC EARNINGS

MONTREAL (CP)—Increase of $712,000 was reported today by Canadian Pacific Railway Company in traffic earnings of $3,408,000 for the week ended July 21, compared with $2,696,000 in the corresponding period in 1939.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Trading in wheat futures on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today remained at a low ebb, as traders presumably paused to consider effect of the government's wheat policy.

One or two transactions were made in the October and July futures, while December failed to open. Prices are still at the pegs of 71 1/2 cents a bushel for July, 73 1/2 for October and 74 1/2 for December.

Chicago ranged 4 to 5 cent lower before the close. Buenos Aires was down 1/2 cent at noon. Cash grain offerings were light and spreads generally unchanged. Dealings were largely routine in the coarse grain pit.

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat and corn prices dropped about a cent a bushel today as a result of selling inspired by promise of a break in the heat wave. Other grains followed the decline.

Complaints were received of damage to corn in many sections of the belt, but crop experts expressed belief deterioration could be halted if the forecast of cooler weather and showers materializes.

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat and corn prices dropped about a cent a bushel today as a result of selling inspired by promise of a break in the heat wave. Other grains followed the decline.

Complaints were received of damage to corn in many sections of the belt, but crop experts expressed belief deterioration could be halted if the forecast of cooler weather and showers materializes.

Prices Stiff at Close

NEW YORK (AP)—Continued befuddlement over the war, politics and taxes today kept most stock-traders on the speculative fence.

Ladders tried a feeble rally at the start but failed to follow through. Prices stiffened at the finish, especially for a few steels and motors.

Although the turnover for the full proceedings was around 250,000 shares against yesterday's 22-year low of 195,000, activity was hardly more than for an hour in normal sessions. Earnings statements still were highly favorable and business prospects were far from pessimistic. All this, though, seemingly added up to nothing so far as market stimulation was concerned.

Rails kept their balance fairly well despite today's freight loadings figures for last week revealing a more than seasonal decline. Oils were undisturbed by the halting of petroleum shipments to Spain.

Among resistant shares were Bethlehem, Republic Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Glenn Martin, Santa Fe, Anaconda, Standard Oil of N.J., Texas Corp., Spiegel and Loft.

Without much climbing steam were U.S. Steel, Boeing, Sperry, Douglas Aircraft, Great Northern, Westinghouse and Goodyear. Most issues were inactive in the Canadian section. Dome lost 1/2 while McIntyre gained a fraction. In the bond market Canada 4s gained 1/2.

Some Salmon Return Safely to Ocean

Perhaps you have heard that a salmon dies after the spawning season. That statement is not entirely true.

Salmon which lay eggs in rivers flowing into the north Pacific almost always die before getting back to salt water. This has been widely observed in rivers of Alaska, British Columbia and the states of Washington and Oregon.

Norwegian fisherman using long nets to catch salmon in river.

Salmon of rivers which flow into the Atlantic ocean do not have this "custom." They return to salt water very much alive, and stay there a year or two before making another spawning trip up a river. An Atlantic salmon may spawn three or four times before it dies.

The weight of adult salmon seems to average from 12 to 18 pounds. Some salmon, however, reach weights of from 40 to 80 pounds. The extra-large ones may be from 10 to 20 years of age.

The age of a salmon can be learned from its scales. On the scales are rings which tell the story in much the same way a tree's age is told. There is a difference between the rings formed when the salmon is in fresh water and when it is in salt water.

Salmon are found in many rivers which flow into Hudson Bay, and into the Atlantic from northern Canada down to Cape Cod. They also spawn in rivers of northern Europe.

Salmon are not "natives" of waters south of the equator, but they have been taken to New Zealand and Australia. Today they spawn in several rivers of those countries.

In a few places, salmon spend all their time in fresh water. Some of the lakes of Maine have salmon which never go down to the sea.

Lake Ladoga, the largest lake in Europe, has fresh-water salmon. This lake, with an area of 7,000 square miles, is north of Leningrad.

As food fish, the salmon of the north Pacific are by far the most important. In past times, they supplied food to thousands of Indians. Today some Indians live by salmon fishing, but the salmon industry means far more than that. Millions of pounds of canned salmon are sent to the world's markets each month.

HOROSCOPE

Benefic aspects balance adverse influences today. The stars smile upon women and there is promise of success in theatrical or social entertainments. There is a good sign for visiting and the urge for family reunions should be strong.

Women are well directed today. Energy and ambition are stimulated under this sway. The portents indicate that class distinctions and social barriers will disappear even more generally than was apparent after the first World War. True democracy is to prevail as customs are ignored and precedents broken.

War scares will be frequent, but the nation is to experience the unexpected instead of what is apprehended. Again surprise is to bring peril. More than one distinguished statesman will forfeit health in months of extreme strain.

The final conjunction of Saturn and Jupiter takes place February 15, 1941 and symbolizes the hope for the ending of conflict among the peoples of Europe. The fall of dictators is indicated and there may be a return of a monarchial form of government in one or two countries.

Persons who birthdate it is have the augury of a fortunate year to which happy domestic conditions contribute. The young will court and marry. Children born on this day probably will be lucky all through life. Charm of personality added to unusual talents will assure success.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—When my husband and I were married 16 years ago, I was the better educated. I had had six years at college while he was only a high school graduate. But now he is becoming by way of being a successful writer and I feel that he is getting ahead of me. When we go out he receives a lot of attention while I am merely his wife. When I meet other women they always acknowledge the introduction with some reference to my husband. At my club I hear compliments on my husband's success. I seem to count for nothing and this cuts me to the core. Just what shall I do to overcome this feeling of inferiority? Unless I can grow up with him I feel sure I am going to lose him.

A DISTRESSED WIFE.

Answer: I don't think that many celebrated men demand that their wives shall match their performances and be equally celebrated, which seems to be your idea. They prefer to monopolize the spotlight themselves and for their wives to be content to bask in their glory, and to make them pleasant and comfortable homes in which they can do their work, undisturbed by such homely details as paying the bills and ordering the groceries and seeing that the plumber has fixed the leaking pipes.

The wife of one of the most famous novelists in this country once told me that when she and her husband walked or rode together she never spoke to him first, because she was afraid that she might scatter some nebulous ideas that were just crystallizing into a plot for a story.

And she further said that she stood such guard over his study door in order to insure him absolute quiet in which to work that if the house were on fire she would not let the firemen interrupt him until the flames were at the door.

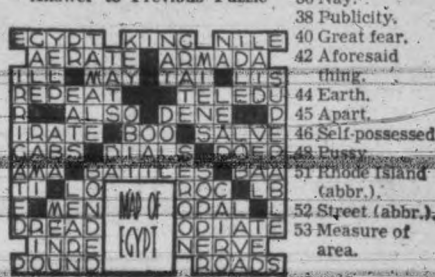

Practically all men are jealous of their wives being more prominent than they are themselves and consider no insult so deadly as being known as Mr. Mary Smith, the husband of the cinema star, or the authors of the new best-seller, but you are the first woman I have ever heard admit of being burned up over being known as the wife of a celebrated man.

Asks Interest In Lonely Sailors

Public interest in the leisure hours of young sailors stationed at Esquimalt was asked last night at a Navy League meeting at the Empress Hotel by Commander A. M. Hope, R.C.N., speaking for Commander Victor G. Brodeur, commander-in-charge at the Pacific Coast naval establishment.

"These youngsters, boys in their late teens, are going through very intensive training," Commander Hope said. "On Sundays I have noticed groups of very disconsolate boys sitting on sidewalks and fence railings between here and Esquimalt, with little or no money in their pockets, nothing to do and without friends. They are away from home, and after the first excitement of change wears off Sunday can become the longest days of the year."

He asked members of the Navy League, or others interested, to take them on picnics, entertain them to meals in their homes or taken them for car drives. The ladies, he suggested, might interest themselves in the wives of members of the fishermen's reserve.

TRIBUTE TO CADETS

Commander Hope paid tribute to the boys of the Rainbow Sea Cadets, and said members of the corps at present in the Canadian Navy were "some of the finest."

"The Rainbow Corps has produced excellent results," he said. "They haven't let us down yet, and they're not going to. Boys from this corps come to us as youngsters, raw recruits, and yet with much valuable preliminary discipline, a knowledge of seamanship, a physique better than the average and with no mean mental ability. This corps has produced quality and quantity."

"It is the duty of the Navy League to impress on the young men of Canada what the sea still means to this Canada of ours. Our Mercantile Marine in the past has been short of natural Canadians. Where would England be today without her fleet—I think we all know."

He thanked the League's Women's Auxiliary for gifts of ditty bags to the young sailors. Their contents were all that homesick boys could desire, he said.

150 CADETS NOW

Commander C. H. R. Slingsby, R.N. retired, vice-president of the Victoria branch of the league, who was in the chair in the absence of the president, Commander C. T. Beard, R.C.N., who is on active service, traced the activities of the Navy League from its foundation in England. He covered also the work of the Rainbow Sea Cadet Corps, which the local branch supports. The roll had recently been increased to 150, he said, and a large number of boys had gone into the Canadian Navy and given satisfaction.

ASKS MORE MEMBERS

He pleaded for increased interest on the part of the public. Membership had grown recently to 165, he said, but he felt it should be still larger.

"In a city of this size, with its great naval tradition since 1860, membership could be much better," he said. "All of us could do a little missionary work in this respect."

He announced the Empire-wide appeal for the King George V Fund for Sailors, starting in September and read a letter from His Majesty the King endorsing the campaign. Commander Hope also asked support for this drive. He said he had seen the fine work the fund had done for sailors in Great Britain.

Capt. Frank Baylis, acting honorary secretary, in the absence of Capt. J. A. Phillips, who has gone to sea, was introduced to the members.

Prior to the meeting the members and a large number of interested American visitors watched the boys of the corps, smart in their uniforms of blue and white, parade and drill on the Empress lawns, under Commander P. W. Tribe. The bugle band was in attendance.

Spencer Tracey's Family Arrives

Two excited daddies waited last night at the Belleville Street docks for Ss. Princess Elizabeth to berth.

On the ship were two attractive women and three happy youngsters.

The daddies were Spencer Tracey and Victor Fleming, Hollywood notables, and the youngsters were their own, joining them for a vacation on Vancouver Island.

The children rushed up the gangway into the arms of their daddies.

Mr. Tracy and Mr. Fleming, who directed "Gone With the Wind," have been spending a quiet holiday in Victoria for a week. They were so delighted with the scenery here and the climate and the quiet surroundings they decided to send for their wives.

"We love it already," said Mrs. Fleming this morning. "We hope we are going to stay many weeks."

The two women, with Victoria and Sally Fleming and Louise Tracy and two maids came up the coast by train. Victoria is five, Sally three and Louise is eight. The other Tracy child, John, is now in his teens, and will join his family in Victoria shortly. He is staying at present in school in Los Angeles.

The Tracy marriage is one of the happiest in the movie colony. Spencer and Louise Treadwell of the stage were married in 1923—17 years ago, and are still a happy, married couple, with old-fashioned ideas in regard to their home and family.

Mr. Tracy is having the time of his life here "loafing" in the gardens at the Empress, yachting and fishing and playing golf.

Many Contribute To Air Campaign

Many individuals and organizations of the city are contributing to the $50,000 Air Supremacy drive, and several features are planned before the campaign closes, but there is still a large amount needed to reach the objective.

Yesterday over $1,000 was added, bringing the total up to nearly $30,000. It is hoped a number of large donations will be received within the next few days to bring the total up to the $50,000 mark.

A lovely antique silver watch with key wind is being displayed in the committee room window and is to be sold to the highest bidder, the money to be added to the fund. Also displayed is a model sailboat, 40 inches long, completely equipped, owned by Frank Ireland, and offered for competition.

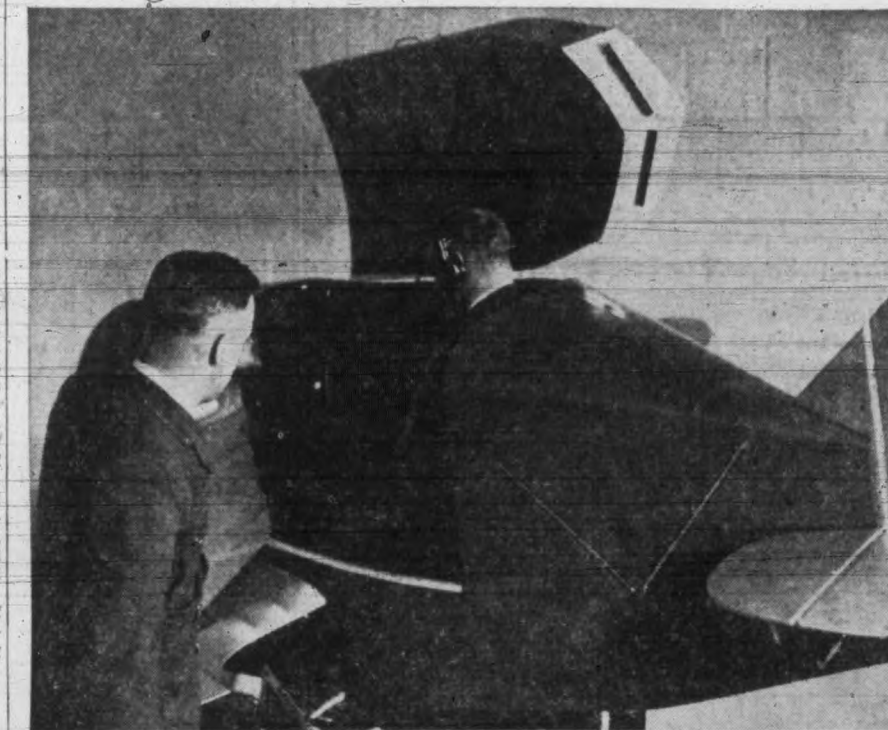

Half the receipts from the sale of a new patriotic song, "Canada Calling," will be given the fund by its authors, Ethel James and T. M. Nixon, both of Victoria.

A man who would not leave his name brought into the committee rooms a gold 1887 Jubilee half-sovereign with a heavy 10-inch gold link chain, which he had kept for 60 years. He offered it for competition, the proceeds to go into the Air Supremacy funds.

Two puppies have also been offered for sale to aid the cause. One is a Doberman Pinscher, given by Mrs. H. Mills, Inlet Avenue, Saanich; the other a registered cairn terrier, seven weeks old, valued at $25, given by the Melita Kennels, Snelling Street.

On Sunday afternoon at 2 at the Lansdowne Airfield members of the Victoria Model Airplane Club will give an exhibition. A collection will be taken for the

The $8,000 Link Trainer, above, on exhibition at the Air Supremacy Drive headquarters on the ground floor of the Scofield Building and has attracted thousands of Victorians curious to learn how student pilots are taught to fly. After 50 hours instruction in this machine, one student took up a transport plane and made a perfect flight. It is an exact duplicate of an airplane cockpit. It handles just like a plane, dipping, sidestepping, banking, only is more sensitive, and is operated by a powerful electric motor. A special device, called a "crab," because of its crab-like shape, charts the pilot's course on a graph which can be checked by the instructor. In the above picture Flight-Lieutenant W. J. Members of the Women's Auxiliary of the B'nai B'rith collected $27.50 for the drive yesterday through the sale of a number of new hats donated by Eddy's Women's Wear Shop.

Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, announced issuance today of a new map covering the central section of British Columbia, based on the latest topographical and geological surveys. The map covers the entire width of the province and extends from Kamloops to north of Finlay Forks with contour lines at 1,000-foot intervals of elevation; provincial parks and game reserves, notes on mineralogy and all roads and trails right up to date.

Teachers See How the Times Is Published

As part of their course in social studies at the Victoria Summer School of Education, student teachers under Dr. H. M. Morrison of Vancouver Normal School, spent yesterday afternoon in the Times Building being shown the workings of all departments. The class is taken on several field trips during the five-weeks' course. Guides for the teachers on their inspection tour of the building were Art Stott, Pete Sallaway, Ted Fox and Jim Nesbitt from the editorial department. Those in the picture, from left to right, are: Kneeling, Robert Ohs, Port Alberni; Gordon Trotman, Prince George; Bob Robinson, Burnaby; George Martin, Enderby; Jimmy McPhail,

Disarm Fifth Columnists

Wismer Asks Action On Security Plan

Special study by a member of the Commons committee on Defence of Canada Regulations of the peculiar internal security needs of British Columbia has been asked by Attorney-General

Mounted Police. "Meanwhile Mr. Wismer said he was hopeful of obtaining federal authority shortly for his security program, which includes the disarming of aliens and possible enemy sympathizers in civilian ranks, and the organization of a mobile armed home guard of war veterans and responsible citizens."

Mr. Wismer discussed the scheme with the co-ordinated council of veterans' organizations in Vancouver this week and is negotiating with Ottawa for immediate action.

The Attorney-General said that potentially the fifth column situation in British Columbia is worse than it was in Norway.

The Attorney-General said he had assurances of support from veterans' groups of all kinds, from game associations and numerous public and semi-public bodies.

REGISTER ALL FIREARMS

First step in the "internal security" plan, as now worked out, would be the registration of every firearm in the possession of civilians in the province.

The registration would be carried out by police and specially picked registrars.

Owners or possessors of firearms who could not satisfy registrars of their bona fides would be called upon to surrender them to the police.

All weapons not registered or surrendered by a fixed date would be liable to instant seizure, with penalties for those who had failed to register them.

Rifles, shotguns, sporting guns of all kinds, revolvers and any other explosive weapons would be covered.

To insure that a minute search for weapons could be made, Mr. Wismer proposes that police and special guards be given the authority to enter private homes to make their searches. The penalties for those concealing their weapons would be made very stiff.

The Attorney-General proposes that the special home guard organized for this purpose and to remain as a standing army against fifth column work should be sworn in as a separate militia unit. They would be equipped with sporting rifles and shotguns, if necessary from the guns that are seized, and given part-time training on the militia basis. They would include war veterans and those over military age or unfit for military service who are recognized as responsible citizens.

"Every precinct of every district in the province could be organized with such a guard," Mr. Wismer said.

"They would be men trained for the purpose and knowing what to do in the case of a civil emergency."

"They would co-operate closely with the civilian authorities and local police, to be available the moment any trouble occurred."

Mr. Wismer said many men who could not stand up to the full rigors of military routine but who were fully capable of handling a rifle would find an opportunity to serve in the guard.

In every block in city areas would be three or four members of the guard, with their guns handy and a car available. On a moment's notice they could be mobilized into a flying unit to be rushed to any area where there was disturbance.
